<sup>2</sup> The annual growth rate is calculated as a percentage change in the base index of transaction-adjusted outstanding amounts over the year.

<sup>3</sup> The financial sector consists of Lithuania's investment funds and other financial intermediaries, as well as insurance corporations and pension funds.

overnight deposits of Lithuanian households and non-financial corporations with credit institutions decreased by €165.8 million and €156.4 million respectively over the month, or 1.1% and 1.8%. At the end of the month, the outstanding amounts of overnight deposits of these sectors stood at €15.4 billion and €8.7 billion respectively. Household and non-financial corporation deposits with agreed maturity with credit institutions increased by €227.2 million and €50.8 million, or 4.0% and 3.0%, respectively over the month. The outstanding amounts of deposits with agreed maturity of these sectors amounted to €6.0 billion and €1.8 billion respectively;

loans granted by credit institutions to Lithuanian residents increased by €267.3 million, or 1.0%, month on month (their annual growth rate was 3.2%). Loans to Lithuanian non-financial corporations and households went up by €147.4 million and €76.2 million, or 1.4% and 0.5%, respectively over the month (their annual growth rates stood at 3.2% and 7.3% respectively).
