The BoL has only approved this Base Prospectus as meeting the standards of completeness, comprehensibility and consistency imposed by the Prospectus Regulation. Such an approval should not be considered as an endorsement of the Issuer nor as an endorsement of the quality of the Notes that are the subject of the Base Prospectus. Such approval of the BoL relates only to Notes which are to be admitted to trading on the Regulated Market of Nasdaq Vilnius within twelve months after the date hereof.

The Regulated Market of Nasdaq Vilnius is a regulated market for the purposes of Directive 2014/65/EU on markets in financial instruments (as amended, "MiFID II"). Tranches of Notes (as defined in "Overview of the Programme – Method of Issue") to be issued under the Programme will be rated or unrated. Where a Tranche of Notes is to be rated, such rating will not necessarily be the same as the rating assigned to the Notes already issued. Where a Tranche of Notes is rated, the applicable rating(s) will be specified in the relevant Final Terms. Whether or not a rating in relation to any Tranche of Notes will be treated as having been issued by a credit rating agency established in the European Union and registered under the CRA Regulation will be disclosed in the relevant Final Terms.

An Issuer's or Notes' rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold its securities and may be subject to suspension, reduction or withdrawal at any time by the assigning rating agency.

RISK FACTORS

Any investment in the Notes is subject to a number of risks. Prior to investing in the Notes, prospective investors should carefully consider risk factors associated with any investment in the Notes, the business of the Issuer and the industry in which it operates together with all other information contained in this Base Prospectus, including, in particular the risk factors described below. Words and expressions defined in the "General Terms and Conditions of the Notes" below or elsewhere in this Base Prospectus have the same meanings in this section.

The following is not an exhaustive list or explanation of all risks which investors may face when making an investment in the Notes and should be used as guidance only. The below disclosure of risks only includes the risks the Issuer deems specific to the Issuer and to the Notes within the Programme, and which the Issuer believes to be the most essential for taking an informed investment decision. Additional risks and uncertainties relating to the Issuer that are not currently known to the Issuer, or that are currently deemed immaterial, may individually or cumulatively also have a material adverse effect on the business, prospects, results of operations and/or financial position of the Issuer and, if any such risk should occur, the price of the Notes may decline and investors could lose all or part of their investment. Investors should consider carefully whether an investment in the Notes is suitable for them in light of the information in this Base Prospectus and their personal circumstances.

The risk factors below are presented in categories depending on their nature. In each category the most material risk factors are mentioned first according to the assessment of the materiality of the risk factors concerned. Unless otherwise specified, the risks relating to the Issuer as discussed in this section below, apply to the Issuer together with its subsidiaries operating in Poland and Lithuania.

This Base Prospectus also contains forward-looking statements that involve risks and uncertainties. The actual results of the Issuer and its subsidiaries may differ materially from those anticipated in these forward-looking statements as a result of various factors, including the risks described below and elsewhere in this Base Prospectus. Please see Forward-Looking Statements.

RISKS RELATING TO THE ISSUER

Risks Relating to the Group's Business

1.1. The production of electricity from renewable resources depends on weather conditions on wind and solar resources.

The Group invests in and plans to continue to invest in electricity generation projects that depend on wind and solar resources. As of 31 March 2022, the Group's electricity generation capacity investment portfolio, consisting of operating assets, assets under development and assets in green field stage, represents 1203.7 MW. Wind and solar assets represent 767.5 MW and 436.2 MW, respectively, or approximately 63.76 per cent and 36.24 per cent, respectively, of its electricity generation capacity.

Electricity generation by the Group's wind and solar assets depends largely on the kinetic energy of the wind to which its wind parks are exposed and the amount of solar irradiance available to its solar facilities. These resources are outside of the Group's control and may vary significantly over time. General meteorological conditions such as seasonal changes in resources are complex and difficult for the Group to predict, especially since exceptionally poor meteorological conditions may lead to one-time drops in production levels and in the associated levels of revenue generated by its assets. If unfavourable meteorological conditions were to continue over the long term, they could negatively affect the profitability of impacted projects. To the extent that climate change causes variations in wind or cloud cover, it may have an adverse effect on the Group's assets and business. Wind conditions may also be adversely affected by man-made obstructions constructed in the vicinity of the wind park, such as new wind parks. Any such obstructions could reduce the output of the Group's wind parks resulting in a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition and operating results.

Insufficient wind or solar irradiance could lead to a decrease in the generation of electricity. By establishing a portfolio of projects in different geographical locations, performing extensive wind measurements and evaluating which wind turbines are most suitable for the specific geographical location prior to making decisions regarding investments, the Group reduces the risk of variations in output.

The Group bases its projected electricity production in part upon statistical studies of historical weather conditions at its sites. Unfavourable weather conditions, changes in climate, technological failures and significant discrepancies between estimates and actual electricity production may have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

1.2. Any long-lasting decline in electricity prices could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

While the Group benefits from certain subsidy programmes, a substantial proportion of the electricity produced by the Group is sold to the market. Consequently, any long-lasting decline in electricity prices could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

There are two principal renewable energy subsidy programmes that impact the Group's revenue. Contract for difference ("CfD"), applicable to the Group's operations in Poland, provides financial support for projects that are successful as part of an auction scheme. The support takes the form of a premium on top of the market price for electricity payable to a project owner, provided that, in the coming years, the market price for electricity is below that of the successful bidding price submitted at auction. For further information, see Regulation—Regulations applicable in Poland.

Feed-in-Tariffs ("FiT"), applicable to the Group's operations in Lithuania, provide for fixed tariffs which the energy producer receives rather than wholesale market power prices for a specified period of time. FiT rates are fixed rates, and the Group is therefore not exposed to electricity price fluctuations with respect to these assets for the duration of the FiT (although there may be an opportunity gain or loss associated).

For Group's current operating Polish assets, CfD auction scheme is applied for 15 years from start of generation for all generation capacity of the projects, and electricity which benefits from FiT subsidy programmes in Lithuania covers all generation capacity of the projects and is valid until 2025. For the remaining operating life cycle of the projects, electricity produced by the Group's facilities is expected to be sold on the power exchange in day-ahead and intra-day markets. The Group will contract third-party energy trading businesses to act as the Group's agent for purposes of executing transactions on the power exchange.

The Group will be exposed to changes in price levels on the power exchanges. Decreases in electricity prices will have a direct impact on the results of operations of the Group. Any addition of new production capacities to the regional power market, especially renewable production capacities, could decrease electricity prices.

During the early stages of renewable energy development in the markets in which the Group operates, CfD and FiT structures were put in place and designed to promote the construction of renewable energy-based capacities. The residual life of the Group's assets benefitting from the incentive schemes exceeds the residual life of the incentive schemes. Consequently, the Group expects that the price it can obtain for electricity will have a greater impact on revenue in the future, as existing FiT arrangements expire and the Group becomes increasingly exposed to market price fluctuations, see Regulation—Regulation applicable in Lithuania.

The Group anticipates that several projects in development will not receive subsidies, but will instead be developed with the intention of either agreeing Power Purchase Agreements ("PPA") with customers in order to hedge the wholesale electricity price risk, see Description of the Issuer—Competitive Strengths—Solid and visible cash flow generation enabling secure cash flows going forward. However, the Group will remain partially exposed to fluctuations in wholesale electricity prices, and there can be no assurance that the Group's hedging and risk management strategies will be successful.

1.3. The Group's business, financial condition and operating results are affected by macroeconomic trends in the markets in which it operates.

The Group's business is influenced by macroeconomic factors affecting the economies of the markets in which it operates (namely, the Baltic countries, as well as Poland). Further, as the Group, through the usage of third-party energy trading businesses' services, sells part of the electricity it produces in Lithuania and in Poland on the power exchange, the Group's business is also impacted by macroeconomic factors affecting the Nordic, and the Eastern and Central Europe countries. Generally, there is a positive correlation between energy prices in a given region and the level of demand. One driver of energy demand is economic output: greater economic output can lead to increased demand for energy, since prices often reflect the state of the economy as a whole. For example, the price of electricity rose in the six months ended 31 December 2021 as compared with the equivalent period in 2020 due to higher demand arising from the combined impact of COVID-19, the decreased supply from hydropower plants in the Nordics, and the cold weather during winter.

Also, COVID-19 and similar level global pandemics pose various supply-chain risks for the operations of the Group, primarily the development and construction schedules of renewable energy projects. In the wind energy sector, the main challenge is posed by the delivery of wind turbines. As of today, the average delivery time of wind turbine parts is one calendar year. This means that a smooth and accurate construction process should be planned in advance to avoid any significant project delays. In the solar energy sector, the module ordering price is greatly affected by the desired delivery term, i.e., short-term delivery price will be significantly higher than the price for long-term delivery schedules. In both cases, supply-chain bottlenecks caused by global pandemics can not only delay the development of renewable energy projects, but also increase overall costs for it.

In addition, in February 2022, the Russian Federation invaded Ukraine. The military actions affect not only the economy in Ukraine, Russia and Belarus, but also the European Union and global economy. The situation in Ukraine is extremely volatile and inherently uncertain. Currently, considering the ongoing and dynamic nature of the situation, a reliable estimate of the financial and non-financial impact cannot be presently made, although such macroeconomic events pose similar supply-chain risks similar to those of a global pandemic.

Such macroeconomic trends in the countries in which the Group operates, and in Europe more broadly, have a significant impact on the Group's business and financial position and any negative macroeconomic trends could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

1.4. The Group's success depends on its senior management team and other key personnel.

The Group's success and its ability to carry out its growth initiatives depend on qualified executives and employees, in particular certain executive officers of the Issuer and employees with special expertise in the development, financing, engineering, construction, operation and maintenance of projects. Given their expertise in the industry, their knowledge of the Group's business processes and their relationships with the Group's local partners, the loss of the services of one or more of these individuals could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

Furthermore, as the Group expands its operations, portfolio and geographic footprint, the Group's operating success and ability to carry out its business plan depend in a large part upon its ability to attract and retain additional qualified personnel who have specific technical or industry expertise, including people in the locations where the Group has operations. For example, the Group's engineering and on-the-ground personnel are critical to the development of new projects and the profitable operation of the Group's existing projects. The Group is also routinely required to assess the business, financial, legal and tax impacts of the complicated business transactions that the Group enters into, whether in connection with evaluating and developing new projects or overseeing asset construction and operation. The success of these projects is dependent on hiring and retaining personnel with sufficient expertise to allow the Group to accurately and timely complete its analysis and reporting requirements. There is significant competition in the renewable energy industry in attracting qualified personnel with the necessary expertise, and there can be no assurance that the Group will be able to hire a sufficient number to support its business plan and growth. The inability to attract and retain qualified personnel could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

Additionally, from time to time, executives and other employees with technical or industry expertise may leave the Group. The Group's failure to promptly appoint qualified and effective successors for such individuals or inability to effectively manage temporary gaps in expertise or other disruption created by such departures, could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

1.5. The Group's maintenance activities depend to a large extent on third-party contractors, which may be inadequate and thus lead to unplanned power outages, reduced output and unanticipated capital expenditures.

The Group's maintenance activities primarily aim to prevent any suspension or interruption in and to optimise the production of electricity. Suspensions and interruptions can occur as a result of a breakdown, externally inflicted damage (by fire or otherwise) or scheduled maintenance. Although insurance is in place to cover such suspensions and interruptions, there can be no assurance that the insurance will be sufficient to cover all eventualities. Such suspensions or interruptions could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

The Group has entered into operation and maintenance ("O&M") contracts with respect to all of the Group's production assets in its Wind and Solar segments. Typically, under the terms of these O&M contracts, the Group is entitled to compensation from the O&M provider if the availability of its wind turbines and solar panels falls below a certain threshold (either 96 per cent or 98 per cent, depending on the contract). The majority of the Group's O&M contracts in its Wind and Solar segments include production-based availability guarantees. The pricing structure for O&M contracts in the Wind segment is based on either a fixed fee per turbine per year or the volume of electricity produced per turbine per year. A majority of the contracts provide for a variable fee based on the volume of electricity produced per year combined with a minimum fixed fee per turbine per year. The pricing structure for O&M contracts in the Solar segment are based on fixed fee per solar park per year, plus any variable performance-based compensation, or bonus payments.

There is no certainty that the maintenance routines implemented by the Group will be adequate to maintain sufficient availability of the Group's assets. Suspensions or interruptions in the work of the production units may still occur, either due to lack of necessary spare parts, unavailability of necessary repair or maintenance services or other similar reasons. Over time, costs for service and maintenance of the Group's equipment may differ from those on which the cost estimate for the investment is based and actual decommissioning costs could exceed those planned or budgeted. Any such event could result in damage to the Group's production assets and unplanned outages which could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects. Furthermore, any increase in the fees charged for these services and/or change in the applicable terms and conditions could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects, as there are limited alternative service providers.

Unplanned outages of the Group's power generation facilities typically (i) increase the Group's operation and maintenance expenses and (ii) lead to reduced output, and therefore decreased revenue. In addition, critical equipment or parts may not be readily available when needed, which may lead to additional downtime. Loss of revenue in these circumstances may not be fully compensated by O&M contracts' penalty clauses and, for certain facilities, no such compensation is available. Certain specifically manufactured or designed equipment or parts require significant time and expense to build and deliver, and if such parts do not function as planned or are damaged, replacing them can create substantial expense for the Group and generate significant downtime for the relevant facility. Higher than expected capital expenditures may be required due to changing environmental, health and safety laws and regulations (including changes in the interpretation or enforcement thereof), necessary facility repairs or unexpected events (such as natural or man-made disasters or terrorist attacks). The Group has in place insurance to protect itself in the event that such circumstances were to occur but there can be no assurance that sufficient insurance is in place to cover all eventualities in respect of unplanned power outages, reduced output and unanticipated capital expenditures. Any unexpected failure, including failure associated with breakdowns, forced outages or any unanticipated capital expenditures at the Group's facilities, could result in reduced profitability and/or jeopardise the Group's ability to meet its obligations, which could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

1.6. The Group's current and prospective operations may be negatively affected by failure of information and technology systems, an inability to implement technological and information technology innovations and cyber-attacks.

If any of the Group's critical information or communications systems fail or become unavailable, the Group may need to perform certain functions manually, which would temporarily affect the efficiency and effectiveness of its operations. Moreover, the operations of the Group and of its technology and communications service providers are vulnerable to damage or interruption from human error, data inconsistency, internet slowdowns or unavailability, natural disasters, power loss, computer viruses, intentional acts of vandalism, breaches of security and similar events.

The extent to which the provision of vital services in the markets where the Group operates and plans to operate depends on technology is continually increasing. Consequently, the impact of interruptions of these services on the functioning of society, the economy and national security in general is increasingly significant. Due to its geopolitical location, both public and private sector companies in the Baltic region are also at risk of being a target of politically-motivated cyber-attacks. If such attacks occur, the Group may experience theft or destruction of data, including commercial, customer and financial information, which could cause commercial detriment to the Group and/or damage to its reputation. The policies maintained by the Group to protect its data may not be sufficient to prevent its systems from suffering failures or delays that might cause significant data loss or other disruptions to the Group's business.

Majority of Group operations are performed remotely via cloud and other internet-based service solutions, thus a large part of Group's business segments is vulnerable to various security breaches, such as financial models and analytic tools, performance analysis data, institutional and private client accounts data, growth and acquisitions strategies, earning releases and other routines business matters that could affect the reputation of the Group.

A system failure, disruption or security breach that causes a delay, interruption or impairment of the Group's services and operations, or the unsuccessful integration of ongoing projects, could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

1.7. The Group's insurance coverage may be inadequate to compensate the Group for certain losses.

Power generation involves hazardous activities, including but not limited to operating large pieces of rotating equipment and delivering electricity to transmission and distribution systems. Hazards such as lightning, high winds, fire, explosion, collapse and machinery failure, are inherent risks in the Group's operations and may occur as a result of inadequate internal processes, technological flaws, human error or external events. These hazards can cause significant injury or death, severe damage to and destruction of property, plant and equipment and suspension of operations. The occurrence of any of these events may subject the Group to investigation, remediation requirements, substantial damages, personal injury and natural resource damages, fines and/or penalties and loss of revenue from suspended operations.

In addition, while the Group obtains warranties from vendors and obligates contractors to meet certain performance levels, the proceeds of warranties or performance guarantees may not sufficiently compensate the Group for lost revenue, increased expenses and financing costs or liquidated damages payments should the Group experience equipment breakdown or non-performance by contractors or vendors.

Damages or losses not covered by contractor warranties may be covered by insurance, but this may not always be the case, as such damages or losses may be (or be considered by insurers to be) outside the scope of applicable insurance policies.

1.8. The Group is subject to risks related to ethical misconduct or breaches of applicable laws by its employees and suppliers.

The Group has implemented compliance policies and procedures with respect to applicable anticorruption laws. However, there can be no assurance that all of the Group's employees and suppliers will not violate the Group's policies or applicable law. Any incidents of ethical misconduct or non-compliance with applicable laws and regulations, including anti-corruption, sanctions, anti-money laundering or other applicable laws, by the Group's employees may subject the Group to significant fines or may lead to other consequences, such as damage to the Group's reputation. Any such non-compliance could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, operating results and prospects.

1.9. The Group is subject to risks arising from PPAs.

Part of the electricity produced by the Group's wind parks in UAB "Žaliosios investicijos" is sold under financial PPA with Axpo Nordic AS, which has entered into back-to-back physical and financial PPAs with certain clients for the sale of electricity at a fixed price. After the Offering, the Group expects to continue to use the above model with view to provide additional revenue security via physical or financial PPAs, and may consider entering into direct corporate (i.e. physical) PPAs with customers. Moreover, the Group expects sales of electricity produced by certain of its development projects to be structured in the form of long-term PPAs with corporate off-takers, utilities and, in certain cases, state actors. For further information, please see Description of the Issuer—Competitive Strengths—Solid and visible cash flow generation enabling secure cash flows going forward.

The Group may be exposed to counterparty credit risk under its existing and future PPAs. This risk may be reduced where the Group has entered into contracts with counterparties with strong credit quality. The Group may also be exposed to other risks such as timing mismatch between the PPA amount, and its generation units load curve, price risk, volume risk relating to the aggregate amount of generation and the PPA contract volume. In addition, there can be no assurance that the Group will be able to renew or secure new PPAs after an initial PPA ends or as to the prices under which electricity produced may be sold under any subsequent PPA or in wholesale markets following the expiration of the initial PPA. Risks associated with PPAs could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

1.10. The Group is subject to risks relating to its investments in associates.

As at 31 December 2021, the Group has invested in one associate in connection with its Wind segment and one associate in connection with its Solar segment: a 25 per cent equity shareholding in UAB "Žaliosios investicijos", and a 30 per cent equity shareholding in UAB "Saulės energijos projektai". The Group expects to continue conducting certain business functions in its Wind and Solar segments in part through investments in associates. The Group does not consolidate revenues from any of these entities, instead accounting for the profit or loss attributable to the shareholdings under the equity method of accounting. Cooperation with business partners allows the Group to access new regional markets, as strategic partnerships bring technical and business knowledge, valuable when entering new markets. In addition, strategic partnerships allow the Group to acquire and develop projects that require larger equity capital infusion as seen with the Group's acquisition of UAB "Žaliosios investicijos" wind project. If the Group is unable to continue its cooperation with these partners, such lack of technical and business knowledge could negatively impact the Group's ability to penetrate new markets and finance upcoming large-scale projects. This, in turn, could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

1.11. The Group could be adversely affected by challenges to its transfer pricing arrangements.

The Issuer enters into intra-group contractual arrangements with the Group entities, including with respect to the downstreaming of funds borrowed at the Issuer level. Under the applicable transfer pricing regulations, companies must conduct any intra-group transactions on an arm's length basis and provide sufficient documentation thereof in accordance with the applicable regulations. Any non-compliance with transfer pricing regulations (including due to insufficient documentation) could result in material adverse effect on the Group's business, results of operations, financial condition and reputation.

RISKS RELATING TO THE GROWTH STRATEGY

2.1. The Group's development plan is capital intensive and subject to uncertainty.

The Group operates in a capital-intensive industry and any new development projects will require substantial investments. The Group expects to make significant capital expenditures in the short- and medium-term to further develop its current projects' portfolio indicated in the Group's corporate structure below. If the Group decides to proceed with any of these or other new investments, new funding would have to be secured. There is no certainty that the Group will be able to procure funding on acceptable terms, if at all. For further details on the Group's capital expenditure, see Description of Other Indebtedness.

The Group's success in implementing its strategy will depend on, among other things, its ability to identify and assess potential investments, successfully finance and integrate such investments, control costs and maintain sufficient operational and financial controls. The Group's expenditure is and will continue to be made on the basis of forecasts of production and projected prices of electricity. The Group also makes certain assumptions regarding long-term interest rates and electricity prices in its decisions on making capital expenditure. These forecasts, judgments and assessments may be inaccurate, which could undermine the economic viability of such investments and could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

In addition, some of the Group's development projects and prospects may require greater investment than currently planned. In the course of development, the Group may uncover problems or encounter difficulties with projects, including but not limited to the following:

- the Group may encounter difficulties in obtaining and maintaining governmental permits, licences and approvals required by existing laws and regulations or additional unanticipated regulations, particularly in connection with the development of wind parks;
- the Group may face delays associated with challenges to permits or regulatory approvals;
- the Group may encounter difficulties in securing adequate property with sufficient natural resources (such as wind) or at an acceptable price, due, in particular, to heightened competition with other renewable energy infrastructure developers in obtaining high-potential property and opposition from local communities;
- the Group may not be able to procure grid connections, or may not be able to procure these at economically viable prices;
- the Group's initial evaluations of site suitability may be based on assumptions that turn out to be incorrect, or unforeseen issues may arise with respect to the land or terrain for a project;
- adverse changes in the underlying political, legal or economic environment;
- the Group may encounter engineering and project design problems; and
- third parties that the Group partners with for initial project development may fail to perform their duties or may fail to perform them in a timely manner or to the required standards, leading to delays or a failure to discover problems with identified sites.

Moreover, certain newly constructed facilities and projects may not perform as expected. The Group forms its expectations around the performance of new facilities and projects based on assumptions, estimates, data provided by third parties and experience with similar assets that the Group has previously managed. The ability of these assets to meet the Group's performance expectations is subject to the risks inherent in newly constructed wind parks and solar plants, including, but not limited to, degradation of equipment in excess of the Group's expectations, system failures and outages.

Such matters arising during development stages may result in delays or additional costs that could render the projects less competitive than the Group initially anticipated and the Group's actual capital expenditure may differ from anticipated figures. Opportunities and projects may be delayed or postponed in implementation, reduced in scope or ownership share, sold or rejected and the Group may not pursue all of the opportunities and projects that it is currently considering. This may adversely affect the Group's ability to execute its investment plan and growth strategies. In addition, failure to meet completion deadlines may result in the loss of applicable subsidies, grid connections or project rights. The foregoing could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

2.2. The Group may not be able to complete projects under construction.

All of the development and construction phase projects are subject to risks in the development and construction phase relating in particular to engineering and design, equipment supply and construction performance. The inability to complete construction, or to complete it on a timely basis, may result in contractual defaults, contractual liability payments, impairment of assets, loss of income or a reduction in the period of eligibility for specified tariffs as a result of a failure to meet certain milestones, among other adverse consequences. Eligibility for certain subsidies may be compromised or lost if assets are not commissioned on schedule, and time-consuming and costly litigation may result among the Issuer or other members of the Group and the parties participating in or financing the project's development. Projects may encounter a range of difficulties in the construction phase that result in delays or higher than expected costs that may not be fully covered or adequately addressed by performance guarantees from contractors, damages clauses or insurance, including but not limited to the following:

- contractor or sub-contractor defaults and performance shortfalls;
- delays due to unforeseen events, such as global pandemics, recessions, or acts of war;
- damage to equipment in the course of delivery as a result of accidents or otherwise;
- damage to components or equipment in the course of installation;
- adverse weather, environmental and geological conditions, force majeure and similar events;
- theft and vandalism; and
- regulatory authorisations or difficulties in obtaining permits.

For example, on 11 March 2022, during the commissioning of Anykščiai wind farm in Lithuania owned by UAB "Žaliosios investicijos", a 5.5 MW wind turbine collapsed onsite. No injuries were reported. Based on onsite and laboratory tests conducted by the turbine manufacturer General Electric Renewables GmbH, the cause of collapse is isolated to only one faulty turbine, as it outlined in the Root Cause Analysis report. Nevertheless, due to the incident the remaining wind farms in UAB "Žaliosios investicijos" portfolio are expected to start electricity generation later than initially scheduled: Anykščiai wind farm is expected to start generating electricity in July 2022, Jonava wind farm in August 2022 and Rokiškis wind farm in December 2022. However, no financial costs or additional investments are expected to be incurred by the Issuer due to incident.

When the Group commits to capital expenditures for project construction, it expects these costs to be recoverable. However, there can be no assurance that any individual project will be completed and reach commercial operation; the Group may abandon a project under construction and write off the costs incurred in connection with such project. Further, ineffective project management and execution in the construction phase could result in delays or unanticipated cost overruns in respect of completed projects, which could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

2.3. The Group depends on financing from various sources, in particular external debt financing, for the development, construction, and operations of its projects and any additional indebtedness could have an adverse effect on the Group's operations and financial condition

The Group currently intends to finance a portion of its capital expenditures for the development and construction of its projects through bank borrowings. The Group had EUR 94.5 million of outstanding indebtedness (sum of non-current and current borrowings) as at 31 December 2021. The Group's access to debt financing is subject to many factors, many of which are outside of the Group's control. For example, political instability, economic downturns, social unrest or changes in the regulatory environment in which the Group has or plans to have operations could increase the Group's cost of borrowing with respect to new financing arrangements or restrict the Group's ability to obtain debt financing. Access to debt financing may be further restricted by financial covenant obligations under the Group's existing financings. There can be no assurance that it will be able to arrange financing on acceptable terms, if at all.

The inability of the Group to obtain debt financing from banks and other financial institutions, or otherwise through the capital markets, could adversely affect its ability to execute its investment plan and growth strategies, which could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

In addition, an increase in indebtedness may expose the Group to additional risks as debt can make companies inherently more sensitive to declines in revenue, increases in expenses and interest rates, and adverse economic, market and industry developments. A leveraged company's income and net assets also tend to increase or decrease at a greater rate than would otherwise be the case if debt had not been incurred to the same extent. Leverage may also restrict the Issuer from making strategic acquisitions or cause it to make non-strategic divestitures and limit its ability to obtain additional financing. In addition, companies with relatively high fixed costs may have greater difficulty servicing higher debt levels. For further details on the Group's indebtedness, see Description of Other Indebtedness.

Debt covenants may limit the Group's ability to finance additional expansion through borrowings, which could limit the Group's scope for expansion. This could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

In addition, there is a risk that the companies of the Group will fail to fulfil their obligations in time – this would have a negative effect on the operating profit of the Group. In case of late performance of a large part of obligations, the ordinary business of the Issuer and/or companies (directly or indirectly) owned by it may be disrupted, it may be necessary to search for additional sources of financing, which may be not always available.

2.4. The Group's business is growing and changing rapidly, raising strategic, management, operational and control challenges.

The Group has expanded significantly in recent years (notably through acquisition of 185.5 MW wind power assets in UAB "Žaliosios investicijos" project) and intends to further expand its business in the Baltics and Poland. The Group also intends to continually adapt its approach to keep pace with developments in its existing markets. The Group has targeted its current and future markets based on various assumptions. If these assumptions prove to be incorrect, the Group may need to adjust its strategy and restructure its operations and workforce.

As the Group's business expands and its business strategy evolves, it expects to encounter additional challenges to its internal processes, external construction management, project funding infrastructure and financing capabilities. The Group's existing operations, personnel, systems and internal controls may not be adequate to support its growth and expansion. The Group may be required to make additional unanticipated investments in its organisational structure and improve its administrative, operational and financial systems, procedures and controls. If the Group is unable to manage these changes effectively, it may not be able to take advantage of market opportunities, execute its business strategies successfully or respond to competitive pressures. As a result, there could be a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

RISKS RELATING TO REGULATION AND GOVERNMENT POLICIES

3.1. Unfavourable changes in existing regulations or government policies in support of renewable energies could significantly affect the performance of the Group's existing operations.

The Group's activities are to a significant extent dependent on incentive-based public policies in the countries in which the Group operates, which aim to promote the production and sale of energy from renewable resources. These policies and mechanisms typically enhance the commercial and financial viability of renewable energy installations. Changes in the regulatory environment and the government subsidies for renewable energy production could distort supply and demand-based prices, reduce the profitability of projects, or otherwise have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects. See Regulation–Regulations applicable in Lithuania and Regulation–Regulations applicable in Poland for a summary of the principal laws and regulations applicable to the renewable energy sector in Lithuania and Poland.

The continuing availability of subsidy programmes for the Group's operations depends on political and policy developments relating to environmental concerns in a given country or region, which can be affected by a wide range of factors, including macroeconomic conditions in the relevant country or region, changes in governments and lobbying efforts by various affected stakeholders (including the renewable energy industry), other producers and consumers of electricity, environmental groups, agricultural businesses and others.

Any reversal of, or unfavourable changes to, such governmental incentive policies or interpretive ambiguities and uncertainties around their implementation (including, but not limited to, those described above) could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

3.2. The Group is materially dependent on licences, permits and authorisations from various regulators and expiry, revocation or inability to renew licences, permits or authorisations could have a material adverse effect on the Group.

In connection with its activities, the Group is subject to significant demands with respect to obtaining permits, licences and authorisations required by applicable regulations and issued by national or local authorities. Depending on the country, these permits, licences and authorisations may take the form of urban planning authorisations (such as construction permits), mandatory environmental impact assessments or studies, production and operation authorisations, authorisations to connect to the grid, and other specific authorisations.

For example, the Group's wind assets' subsidies and associates in Lithuania are required to perform environmental impact assessments to comply with applicable environmental regulatory framework in Lithuania. Development licenses and authorizations, such as development permit, or building permit are required in order to start physical development of the project, while these projects must comply with regional planning and zoning requirements. Projects must also hold operating licenses in order to operate its electricity generating units after development is completed. The Group's solar assets in Poland are also subject environmental decisions, zoning requirements, building permits, and connection to the grid requirements. In addition, in Poland, renewable energy assets that apply government backed renewable energy subsidies, such as Auction Schemes, are subject to regulation under Renewable Energy Support Scheme framework, see Regulation for a summary of the principal laws and regulations applicable to the renewable energy sector in Lithuania and Poland.

National governments and local authorities may, depending on the country, have a high degree of discretion in issuing such permits, licences and authorisations, and they may exercise their discretion arbitrarily or unpredictably. In addition, the multitude of government agencies involved may make the process of obtaining these authorisations long, complex and expensive. As a result, there can be no assurance that the Group will obtain the permits, licences and authorisations necessary for the construction of a given project or for the exercise of the business that it intends to conduct in a given country at a reasonable cost or within the expected time periods operations or prospects.

3.3. The Group is subject to an increasingly complex regulatory environment, and regulatory changes may negatively affect its business.

In addition to compliance with its contractual agreements, licences and permits, the Group must comply with a range of other legal requirements, including corporate, energy-sector, environmental, antitrust, administrative, data protection and property laws and regulations.

Although the Group seeks to continue to comply with all relevant laws, regulations, licences, permits and agreements, to the extent it is not able to do so, it could be subject to:

- significant administrative or civil penalties, including the imposition of fines, penalties and criminal sanctions for wilful violations;
- increased regulatory scrutiny;
- reputational damage to the Group's brand;

- default under financing and commercial agreements;
- judgments for damages, which may not be covered by insurance or in excess of insurance cover;
- termination of, or increased premiums on, insurance policies;
- difficulty in recruiting and retaining personnel (especially with specific professional backgrounds), particularly where any non-compliance relates to matters affecting its employees; and/or
- the representatives, directors or managers of the relevant Group company being subject to a fine or imprisonment.

In addition, future changes to existing regulations or the introduction of new regulations, procedures or licensing requirements (either by the European Union or the regulators or governments of the countries where the Group operates) may adversely affect the Group's business in the future. Any such expansion of the scope of regulations may require additional investment by the Group to ensure compliance, which may result in higher ongoing compliance costs and may increase the risk of non-compliance by the Group.

Any failure by the Group to fully comply with current and future laws and regulations or to maintain good relations with regulators, could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

3.4. The Group's operations are subject to extensive environmental regulation and the cost of complying with such regulations could have a material adverse effect on the Group's profitability and financial condition.

The Group is subject to significant and complex environmental regulation. For example, for assets operating in Wind segment, limitations on noise level are taken into account during the planning phase, nevertheless, any complaints from communities in the locality of the Group's sites, especially near residential areas, could result in adverse consequences for the Group. Any new requirements on maximum noise level of production units located in residential areas could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business and financial conditions.

Failure to comply with the requirements of environmental permits or environmental laws may lead to investigations, fines, penalties, claims, costly corrective works or suspension or shutdown of operations, any of which could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

3.5. Complaints raised by and resistance of local communities or individuals in relation to the Group's activities may affect the Group's operations and its financial condition.

The Group is subject to potential complaints by communities near the Group's sites. Members of these communities may take legal action against the Group in relation to physical damage that has been caused to their property or interference with the enjoyment of their property.

Relations with local communities are especially important for the Group in getting permission to locate its wind parks or other facilities at specific sites. The potential consequences of a complaint or third-party claim could involve the payment of substantial damages for personal injury; damage to property or interference with the enjoyment of property rights; the loss of a regulatory permit or other regulatory enforcement action; and/or the imposition of fines or obligations to investigate and clean up/remediate environmental pollution or contamination. Each of these potential consequences could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

RISKS RELATING TO COMPETITION WITHIN THE RENEWABLE ENERGY SECTOR AND BETWEEN RENEWABLE RESOURCES AND OTHER SOURCES OF ENERGY PRODUCTION

4.1. Difficulties in connecting to transmission grids, a lack of transmission capacity or potential upgrade costs to the transmission grid could significantly impact the Group's ability to build its assets and to sell the electricity that they generate.

In order to sell the electricity generated by the assets that it operates, the Group must connect the assets to the electrical transmission grid and, to a lesser extent, the distribution grid. A lack of available capacity in the grid due to congestion, overproduction by connected facilities or excessive fluctuations in electricity market prices could substantially impact the performance of the Group's assets and cause the Group to reduce the size of its facilities and lead to delays in project implementation, cancellation of projects, increases in costs from transmission upgrades and potential forfeitures of any guarantees the Group has provided to the relevant grid manager in connection with a given project's grid connection.

4.2. Renewable energy technology is newer than conventional energy technology and is rapidly changing. Its competitiveness in the power market may increase less rapidly or develop differently than currently predicted by the Group and may encounter increased competition from other sources of electricity generation.

Renewable energy technology is relatively new compared with fossil fuel and nuclear energy technology.

The competitiveness of renewable energy technology within the power generation market may increase less rapidly or develop differently than currently predicted by the Group or industry analysts. Many factors may affect the rate of growth in installed capacity and the attractiveness of renewable energy technology as compared to other energy sources, including:

- the competitiveness of electricity generated by renewable energy facilities as compared with conventional energy sources such as natural gas or nuclear energy;
- the performance, reliability and availability of renewable energy facilities as compared with other, non-renewable power generation facilities;
- technological improvements and changes in the costs of components (such as wind turbines, solar panels and other system components), as well as design, construction and O&M costs;
- fluctuations in economic and market conditions that affect the price of, and demand for, conventional energy sources, such as increases or decreases in the price of conventional energy sources (such as natural gas, coal, oil and other fossil fuels) and changes in the cost, efficiency and equipment investment needed for other electricity-producing technologies;
- variations affecting global demand for renewable energies both by state actors (in the event of changes to incentive-based public policies) and by private actors (in particular if the reputational benefit gained by private companies for sourcing their energy primarily or exclusively from renewable sources diminishes); and
- for geographical markets in which grid parity has not yet been reached, changes in the availability, substance and magnitude of support programs, including government targets, subsidies, incentives and favourable renewable energy standards, including potential adverse changes relative to programs applicable to other forms of conventional or non-conventional power generation.

Any of the above factors may evolve in ways not currently anticipated by the Group. Other new market conditions may develop, which could affect the Group's strategic planning in unforeseen ways. If the renewable energy technology develops less quickly or in a different manner than anticipated, equity and debt investor appetite for investments in the industry sector may decline, and the Group may have difficulty meeting its development targets or business objectives.

4.3. In order to remain competitive, the Group must respond to rapid changes in the wind and solar energy markets, in particular the discovery of new technologies and their integration into existing installations and the projects being developed.

The wind and solar energy industries are characterised by rapid improvements and increases in the diversity of technologies, products and services. Technological improvements in the wind and solar industries contribute to reduced costs and to improved technical features, in order to offer better integration into the relevant electrical grids and improved returns, thereby rendering older technologies less competitive. Additionally, companies may refine new electrical production technologies that are more competitive from a cost standpoint or more profitable than wind, biomass or solar facilities. If the Group does not succeed in identifying and developing these new technologies or updating its existing installations for these innovations, it could encounter difficulties in connection with its participation in tender procedures with attractive terms for its new projects. This could significantly impact the Group's business, financial condition and results of operations.

The Group may also encounter difficulties in negotiating financing for projects using new technologies that are unproven and not yet widespread, which could place the Group at a competitive disadvantage relative to competitors with sufficient resources to self-finance projects using these new technologies, in particular where the new technologies require a substantial initial investment and/or provide a later, significant cost advantage.

If the Group's competitors succeed in developing technologies that enable them to submit tenders at lower prices or on more attractive terms, the Group could be unable to match these bids without otherwise affecting its profitability or may be unable to submit a bid at all. Such a situation could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

MARKET RISK

5.1. The Group faces counterparty risk.

In conducting its business, the Group faces counterparty risk. Counterparty risk may result in financial losses (including, but not limited to, funds deposited at banks, partners in long term construction projects and revenues to be received from customers). Although the Group monitors its counterparty risks and implements risk management policies, there is a possibility that if these risks are realised, they could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects.

5.2. The Group is exposed to variation in interest rates and exchange rates risk.

Part of the operational companies enter into a large portion of non-EUR (principally in Polish zloty) denominated agreements in foreign markets, whereas some of their performance costs are incurred in EUR, therefore a drop in the rate of respective currencies can have a negative effect on profitability of the managed companies. Besides, having in mind that the operational companies operates in Poland, there is a risk that the attractiveness or profitability of the Issuer's investments will decrease also due to fluctuations in rates of other currencies. Nevertheless, the impact of such currency risk cannot be predicted reliably.

The Group's interest rate risk arises from long-term borrowings. The Group is exposed to cash flow interest rate risk as some of the Group's borrowings are subject to floating interest rates related to Euro Interbank Offered Rate and Warsaw Interbank Offer Rate. The Group seeks to manage its exposure to adverse fluctuations in exchange rates and interest rates by using currency and interest rate hedging instruments. There is a risk that the Group's results of operations may be adversely affected if its hedges are not effective in mitigating exchange rate and interest rate risks, if the Group is under hedged or if a hedge provider defaults on its obligations under the Group's hedging agreements. There can be no assurance that the Group's interest rate and exchange rate hedging arrangements or hedging policy will be sufficient or effective.

5.3. The Group may face liquidity risk.

Liquidity risk is the risk that the Group is unable to maintain a sufficient reserve of cash and other liquid financial assets that can be used to meet its payment obligations as they fall due. The availability of liquidity for business activities and the ability to access long-term financing are necessary to enable the Group to meet its payment obligations in cash, whether scheduled or unscheduled. This is particularly relevant in the context of the Group's capital expenditure requirements in relation to new development projects. The Group's ability to access liquidity during periods of liquidity stress may also be constrained as a result of current and future market conditions. Although the Group monitors its liquidity position and follows procedures to manage liquidity risk, a reduction in the Group's liquidity position could have a material adverse effect on the Group's business, financial condition, results of operations or prospects. For further information, see Description of Other Indebtedness.

RISKS ASSOCIATED WITH THE STRUCTURE OF THE NOTES

6.1. The Issuer's right to redeem any Notes at its option may limit the market value of the Notes concerned and an investor may not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds in a manner which achieves a similar effective return.

An optional redemption feature of Notes is likely to limit their market value. During any period when the Issuer may elect to redeem Notes, the market value of those Notes generally will not rise substantially above the price at which they can be redeemed. This also may be true prior to any redemption period. The Issuer may be expected to redeem Notes when its cost of borrowing is lower than the interest rate on the Notes. At those times, an investor generally would not be able to reinvest the redemption proceeds at an effective interest rate as high as the interest rate on the Notes being redeemed and may only be able to do so at a significantly lower rate. Potential investors should consider reinvestment risk in light of other investments available at that time.

6.2. Notes which are issued at a substantial discount or premium may experience price volatility in response to changes in market interest rates.

The market values of Notes issued at a substantial discount or premium to their nominal amount tend to fluctuate more in relation to general changes in interest rates than do prices for conventional interest-bearing securities. Generally, the longer the remaining term of the Notes, the greater the price volatility as compared to conventional interest-bearing securities with comparable maturities.

6.3. In respect of any Notes issued as Green Bonds, there can be no assurance that such use of proceeds will be suitable for the investment criteria of an investor.

The Issuer will apply the proceeds from an offer of those Notes specifically for one or more eligible projects for the financing and/or refinancing of projects and activities that promote climate and other environmental purposes, in accordance with certain prescribed eligibility criteria ("Eligible Projects"). The Eligible Projects are described in the Green Bond Framework dated October 2021 (the "Green Bond Framework") published on the Issuer's website and as updated from time to time. Prospective investors should determine for themselves the relevance of such information for the purpose of any investment in such Notes together with any other investigation such investor deems necessary. Pursuant to the International Capital Markets Association's ("ICMA") Green Bond Principles 2017 recommendations, the Issuer engaged Sustainalytics ("Sustainalytics") to issue a second-party opinion regarding its Green Bond Framework in October 2021 (the "Sustainalytics Opinion"). The Green Bond Framework, the Sustainalytics Opinion and associated reporting are available on the Issuer's website www.lordslb.lt/AEI_green_bonds. Neither the Green Bond Framework nor the Sustainalytics Opinion is incorporated into and does not form part of this Base Prospectus. The Sustainalytics Opinion may not reflect the potential impact of all risks related to the structure, market, additional risk factors discussed here and other factors that may affect the value of the Green Bonds. The Sustainalytics Opinion is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and is only current as of the date on which the Sustainalytics Opinion was initially issued.

In particular no assurance is given by the Issuer, the Dealers or any other person that the use of such proceeds for any Eligible Projects will satisfy, whether in whole or in part, any present or future investor expectations or requirements as regards any investment criteria or guidelines with which such investor or its investments are required to comply, whether by any present or future applicable law or regulations or by its own by-laws or other governing rules or investment portfolio mandates, in particular with regard to any direct or indirect environmental, sustainability or social impact of any projects or uses, the subject of or related to, any Eligible Projects. Furthermore, it should be noted that there is currently no clearly defined definition (legal, regulatory or otherwise) of, nor market consensus as to what constitutes, a "green" or "sustainable" or an equivalently-labelled project or as to what precise attributes are required for a particular project to be defined as "green" or "sustainable" or such other equivalent label nor can any assurance be given that such a clear definition or consensus will develop over time. Accordingly, no assurance is or can be given to investors that any projects or uses the subject of, or related to, any Eligible Projects will meet any or all investor expectations regarding such "green", "sustainable" or other equivalently-labelled performance objectives or that any adverse environmental, social and/or other impacts will not occur during the implementation of any projects or uses the subject of, or related to, any Eligible Projects.

No assurance or representation is given as to the suitability or reliability for any purpose whatsoever of any opinion or certification of any third party (whether or not solicited by the Issuer) which may be made available in connection with the issue of any Notes and in particular with any Eligible Projects to fulfil any environmental, sustainability, social and/or other criteria. For the avoidance of doubt, any such opinion or certification is not, nor shall be deemed to be, incorporated in and/or form part of this Base Prospectus. Any such opinion or certification is not, nor should be deemed to be, a recommendation by the Issuer or any other person to buy, sell or hold any such Notes. Any such opinion or certification is only current as of the date that opinion was initially issued. Prospective investors must determine for themselves the relevance of any such opinion or certification and/or the information contained therein and/or the provider of such opinion or certification for the purpose of any investment in such Notes. Currently, the providers of such opinions and certifications are not subject to any specific regulatory or other regime or oversight.

In the event that any such Notes are listed or admitted to trading on any dedicated "green", "environmental", "sustainable" or other equivalently-labelled segment of any stock exchange or securities market (whether or not regulated), no representation or assurance is given by the Issuer or any other person that such listing or admission satisfies, whether in whole or in part, any present or future investor expectations or requirements as regards any investment criteria or guidelines with which such investor or its investments are required to comply, whether by any present or future applicable law or regulations or by its own by-laws or other governing rules or investment portfolio mandates, in particular with regard to any direct or indirect environmental, sustainability or social impact of any projects or uses, the subject of or related to, any Eligible Projects. Furthermore, it should be noted that the criteria for any such listings or admission to trading may vary from one stock exchange or securities market to another. Nor is any representation or assurance given or made by the Issuer, the Dealers or any other person that any such listing or admission to trading will be obtained in respect of any such Notes or, if obtained, that any such listing or admission to trading will be maintained during the life of the Notes.

While it is the intention of the Issuer to apply the proceeds of any Notes so specified for Eligible Projects in, or substantially in, the manner described in this Base Prospectus, there can be no assurance that the relevant project(s) or use(s) the subject of, or related to, any Eligible Projects will be capable of being implemented in or substantially in such manner and/or accordance with any timing schedule and that accordingly such proceeds will be totally or partially disbursed for such Eligible Projects. Nor can there be any assurance that such Eligible Projects will be completed within any specified period or at all or with the results or outcome (whether or not related to the environment) as originally expected or anticipated by the Issuer. Any such event or failure by the Issuer will not constitute an Event of Default under the Notes.

Any such event or failure to apply the proceeds of any issue of Notes for any Eligible Projects as aforesaid and/or withdrawal of any such opinion or certification or any such opinion or certification attesting that the Issuer is not complying in whole or in part with any matters for which such opinion or certification is opining or certifying on and/or any such Notes no longer being listed or admitted to trading on any stock exchange or securities market as aforesaid may have a material adverse effect on the value of such Notes and also potentially the value of any other Notes which are intended to finance Eligible Projects and/or result in adverse consequences for certain investors with portfolio mandates to invest in securities to be used for a particular purpose.

LEGAL RISKS RELATED TO THE NOTES

Set out below is a brief description of certain legal risks relating to the Notes:

7.1. The conditions of the Notes contain provisions which may permit their modification without the consent of all investors.

The Terms and Conditions of the Notes contain provisions for calling meetings of Noteholders to consider matters affecting their interests generally. These provisions permit defined majorities to bind all Noteholders including Noteholders who did not attend and vote at the relevant meeting and Noteholders who voted in a manner contrary to the majority. The Terms and Conditions of the Notes also provide that the Issuer may, without the consent of Noteholders agree to the amendment of any of the provisions of the Notes in order to correct a manifest error or comply with mandatory provision of the applicable law. The Noteholders' Meetings, as described above, do not meet the requirements of and are not regulated by the Law on the Protection of Interests of Owners of Bonds issued by Public and Private Companies of the Republic of Lithuania (in Lithuanian – Lietuvos Respublikos akcinių bendrovių ir uždarytųjų akcinių bendrovių obligacijų savininkų interesų gynimo įstatymas). The provisions of the above mentioned law do not apply to Notes issued under the Programme.

7.2. Notes may be redeemed prior to their stated maturity upon certain tax law changes.

Where the payment of interest is subject to withholding tax in Lithuania, the Issuer has undertaken to pay additional amounts such that Noteholders receive the amount of interest they would have received had there been no such withholding tax on interest. Despite the gross-up of withholding tax, under certain conditions Noteholders (resident or non-resident individuals) may be required to pay personal income tax on interest as that will not be subject to the gross-up provisions. If the Issuer has or will become obliged to pay any other additional amounts as provided or referred to in Condition 10 (Taxation) as a result of any change in, or amendment to, the laws or regulations of the Republic of Lithuania or any political subdivision or any authority thereof or therein having power to tax, or any change in the application or official interpretation of such laws or regulations, which change or amendment becomes effective on or after the date of issue of the first Tranche of the Notes, the Issuer may redeem all outstanding Notes in accordance with the Terms and Conditions. For further information, see Taxation.

RISKS RELATED TO THE MARKET FOR THE NOTES

8.1. There is no active trading market for the Notes.

There can be no assurance that a liquid market for the Notes will be maintained. The investors may find it difficult to sell their Notes or to sell them at prices producing a return comparable to returns on similar investments in the secondary market. This is specifically relevant for the reason, that the minimum denomination of each Note will be €100,000. Thus, there would be not many investors, able to acquire the Notes on the secondary market.

The Notes are new securities which may not be widely distributed and for which there is currently no active trading market (unless in the case of any particular Tranche, such Tranche is to be consolidated with and form a single series with a Tranche of Notes which is already issued). If a market does develop, it may not be very liquid. Therefore, no liquidity of any market in the Notes can be assured; nor the ability of the Noteholders to sell their Notes or the prices at which they would be able to sell their Notes.

If the Notes are traded after their initial issuance, they may be traded at a discount or at a premium to their initial offering price, depending upon prevailing interest rates, the market for similar securities, general economic conditions and the financial condition of the Issuer. It is possible that the market for the Notes will be subject to disruptions or volatility. Any such disruption or volatility may have a negative effect on holders of either series of the Notes, regardless of the Issuer's prospects and financial performance. As a result, there is no assurance that there will be an active trading market for the Notes. If no active trading market develops, you may not be able to resell your holding of the Notes at a fair value, if at all.

Although applications have been made for the Notes issued under the Programme to be admitted to listing on the Official List and to trading on the Regulated Market of Nasdaq Vilnius (and the management board of Nasdaq Vilnius has already adopted a decision on conditional admission of the Notes to trading on Nasdaq Vilnius), there can be no assurance that such applications will be accepted, that any particular Tranche of Notes will be so admitted or that an active trading market will develop. Accordingly, there is no assurance as to the development or liquidity of any trading market for any particular Tranche of Notes.

8.2. If an investor holds Notes which are not denominated in the investor's home currency, it will be exposed to movements in exchange rates adversely affecting the value of its holding. In addition, the imposition of exchange controls in relation to any Notes could result in an investor not receiving payments on those Notes.

The Issuer will pay principal and interest on the Notes in euro Specified Currency. This presents certain risks relating to currency conversions if an investor's financial activities are denominated principally in a currency or currency unit (the "Investor's Currency") other than the Specified Currency. These include the risk that exchange rates may significantly change (including changes due to devaluation of the Specified Currency or revaluation of the Investor's Currency) and the risk that authorities with jurisdiction over the Investor's Currency may impose or modify exchange controls. An appreciation in the value of the Investor's Currency relative to the Specified Currency would decrease (1) the Investor's Currency-equivalent yield on the Notes, (2) the Investor's Currency equivalent value of the principal payable on the Notes and (3) the Investor's Currency equivalent market value of the Notes.

Government and monetary authorities may impose (as some have done in the past) exchange controls that could adversely affect an applicable exchange rate or the ability of the Issuer to make payments in respect of the Notes. As a result, investors may receive less interest or principal than expected, or no interest or principal.

8.3. The value of fixed rate Notes may be adversely affected by movements in market interest rates.

Investment into Notes issued under the Programme, which are fixed rate Notes, involves the risk that subsequent changes in market interest rates may adversely affect the value of the fixed rate Notes. Particularly long-term fixed-rate Notes involve a high risk of a material decline in value if the market rate exceeds the rate paid in accordance with the fixed rate Notes. On the other hand, Noteholders that are subject to redemption at the option of the Issuer should not expect, in case of falling market rates, that the price would substantially exceed the redemption price. The yield to maturity on the Notes is affected by number of factors that cannot be predicted at the time of the investment.

8.4. Credit ratings assigned to the Issuer may not reflect all the risks associated with an investment in those Notes.

As of the date of this Base Prospectus, the Issuer has been assigned B+ rating by Scope Ratings GmbH. Tranches of Notes to be issued under the Programme will not be rated. Such ratings may not reflect the potential impact of all risks related to structure, market, additional factors discussed above, and other factors that may affect the value of the Notes. A credit rating is not a recommendation to buy, sell or hold securities and may be revised or withdrawn by the rating agency at any time.

In general, European regulated investors are restricted under the CRA Regulation from using credit ratings for regulatory purposes, unless such ratings are issued by a credit rating agency ("CRA") established in the E.U. or in the United Kingdom ("UK") and registered under the CRA Regulation (and such registration has not been withdrawn or suspended). Such general restriction will also apply in the case of credit ratings issued by non-E.U. or non-UK credit rating agencies, unless the relevant credit ratings are endorsed by an E.U. or UK registered CRA or the relevant non-E.U. or non-UK rating agency is certified in accordance with the CRA Regulation (and such endorsement action or certification, as the case may be, has not been withdrawn or suspended). If the status of the rating agency rating the Notes changes, European or UK regulated investors may no longer be able to use the rating for regulatory purposes and the Notes may have a different regulatory treatment. This may result in European or UK regulated investors selling the Notes which may impact the value of the Notes and any secondary market. The list of registered and certified rating agencies published by the European Securities and Markets Authority ("ESMA") on its website in accordance with the CRA Regulation is not conclusive evidence of the status of the relevant rating agency included in such list, as there may be delays between certain supervisory measures being taken against a relevant rating agency and the publication of the updated ESMA list. Certain information with respect to the credit rating agencies and ratings is set out on the cover of this Base Prospectus.

8.5. Minimum Specified Denomination and higher integral multiples.

As the Notes have a denomination consisting of the minimum Specified Denomination of EUR 100,000 plus a higher integral multiple of another smaller amount, it is possible that the Notes may be traded in amounts in excess of EUR 100,000 that are not integral multiples of EUR 100,000. In such case a Noteholder who, as a result of trading such amounts, holds a principal amount of less than the minimum Specified Denomination may not trade such holdings on the regulated market and would need to purchase a principal amount of Notes which have a denomination consisting of the minimum Specified Denomination with the aim to be able to trade the whole holdings on the Regulated Market. Thus, Noteholders should be aware that Notes which have a denomination that is not an integral multiple of the minimum Specified Denomination may be illiquid and difficult to trade on the Regulated Market of Nasdaq Vilnius.

8.6. Risks relating to the clearing and settlement in the Nasdaq CSD's book-entry system

The Notes will be affiliated to the account-based system of the Lithuanian branch of Nasdaq CSD and no physical notes will be issued. Clearing and settlement relating to the Notes will be carried out within the Nasdaq CSD's book-entry system as well as payment of interest and repayment of the principal. Investors are therefore dependent on the functionality of the Nasdaq CSD's account-based system.

- (a) Appointment of Trustee: By subscribing for Notes, each initial Noteholder appoints the Trustee to act as its agent in all matters relating to the Notes and these Terms and Conditions, and authorises the Trustee to act on its behalf (without first having to obtain its consent, unless such consent is specifically required by these Terms and Conditions) in any legal or arbitration proceedings relating to the Notes held by such Noteholder, including the winding-up, dissolution, liquidation or insolvency (or its equivalent in any other jurisdiction) of the Issuer. By acquiring Notes, each subsequent Noteholder confirms such appointment and authorisation for the Trustee to act on its behalf. Any initial Noteholder is entitled to withdraw such appointment and authorisation of the Trustee by giving a withdrawal notice to the Trustee by sending it to the Trustee's registered address.

Each Noteholder shall immediately upon request by the Trustee provide the Trustee with any such documents, including a written power of attorney (in form and substance satisfactory to the Trustee), as the Trustee deems necessary for the purpose of exercising its rights and/or carrying out its duties under these Terms and Conditions. The Trustee is under no obligation to represent a Noteholder which does not comply with such request.

The Trustee is entitled to fees for its work and to be indemnified for costs, losses and liabilities on the terms set out in these Terms and Conditions and the Trustee Agreement, and the Trustee's obligations under these Terms and Conditions are conditioned upon the due payment of such fees and indemnifications. The Trustee is not obliged to expend or risk its own funds or otherwise incur any financial liability (including, but without limitation, legal fees) in the performance of its duties, obligations or responsibilities or the exercise of any right, power, authority or discretion if it has grounds for believing the repayment of such funds is not reasonably assured to it. For this purpose, the Trustee may demand, prior to taking any such action, payment in advance as it considers (without prejudice to any further demand) shall be sufficient to prefund it.

The Issuer shall on demand by the Trustee pay all costs for external experts engaged by it (i) after the occurrence of an Event of Default, (ii) for the purpose of investigating or considering (A) an event or circumstance which the Trustee reasonably believes is or may lead to an Event of Default or (B) a matter relating to the Issuer or the Notes which the Trustee reasonably believes may be detrimental to the interests of the Noteholders under the Terms and Conditions, and (iii) in connection with any Noteholders' Meeting or Procedure in Writing, or (iv) in connection with any amendment (whether contemplated by the Terms and Conditions or not) or waiver under the Terms and Conditions.

Upon request by a Noteholder, the Trustee shall promptly distribute to the Noteholders any information from such Noteholder which relates to the Notes (at the discretion of the Trustee). The Trustee may require that the requesting Noteholder reimburses any costs or expenses incurred, or to be incurred, by the Trustee in doing so (including a reasonable fee for the work of the Trustee) before any such information is distributed. The Trustee shall upon request by a Noteholder disclose the identity of any other Noteholder who has consented to the Trustee in doing so.

The Trustee shall treat all Noteholders equally and, when acting pursuant to these Terms and Conditions, act with regard only to the interests of the Noteholders and shall not be required to have regard to the interests or to act upon or comply with any direction or request of any other person, other than as explicitly stated in these Terms and Conditions and the Trustee Agreement.

If in the Trustee's reasonable opinion the cost, loss or liability which it may incur (including reasonable fees to the Trustee) in complying with instructions of the Noteholders, or taking any action at its own initiative, will not be covered by the Issuer, the Trustee may refrain from acting in accordance with such instructions, or taking such action, until it has received such funding or indemnities (or adequate security has been provided therefore) as it may reasonably require. The Trustee shall give a notice to the Noteholders (i) before it ceases to perform its obligations under these Terms and Conditions by reason of the non-payment by the Issuer of any fee or indemnity due to the Trustee under these Terms and Conditions or the Trustee Agreement, or (ii) if it refrains from acting for any reason described in this Clause.

Other than as specifically set out in the Terms and Conditions, the Trustee shall not be obliged to monitor (i) whether any Event of Default has occurred, (ii) the performance, default or any breach by the Issuer or any other party of its obligations under Terms and Conditions, or (iii) whether any other event specified in any Finance Document has occurred. The Issuer shall promptly upon request provide the Trustee with such information as the Trustee reasonably considers necessary for the purpose of being able to comply with this clause.

The Trustee shall neither be liable to the Issuer or the Noteholders for damage due to any documents and information delivered to the Trustee not being accurate, correct and complete, unless it has actual knowledge to the contrary, nor be liable for the content, validity, perfection or enforceability of such documents.

The Trustee shall give a notice to the Noteholders (i) before it ceases to perform its obligations under the Terms and Conditions by reason of the non-payment by the Issuer of any fee or indemnity due to the Trustee under the Terms and Conditions or the Trustee Agreement or (ii) if it refrains from acting for any reason described above.

- (c) Limited Liability of the Trustee: The Trustee will not be liable to the Noteholders for damage or loss caused by any action taken or omitted by it under or in connection with these Terms and Conditions, unless directly caused by its negligence or wilful misconduct. The Trustee shall never be responsible for indirect loss.

The Trustee shall not be considered to have acted negligently if it has acted in accordance with advice from or opinions of reputable external experts engaged by the Trustee or if the Trustee has acted with reasonable care in a situation when the Trustee considers that it is detrimental to the interests of the Noteholders to delay the action in order to first obtain instructions from the Noteholders.

The Trustee shall have no liability to the Issuer or the Noteholders for damage caused by the Trustee acting in accordance with instructions of the Noteholders given in accordance with these Terms and Conditions.

- (d) Replacement of the Trustee: The Trustee may resign by giving notice to the Issuer and the Noteholders, in which case the Noteholders shall appoint a successor Trustee at a Noteholders' Meeting convened by the retiring Trustee or by way of Procedure in Writing initiated by the retiring Trustee.

The Issuer may, at a Noteholders' Meeting convened by it or by way of Procedure in Writing initiated by it, propose to the Noteholders that the Trustee be dismissed and a new Trustee appointed.

If the Noteholders have not appointed a successor Trustee within ninety (90) calendar days after (i) the earlier of the notice of resignation was given or the resignation otherwise took place or (ii) the Trustee was dismissed through a decision by the Noteholders, the Issuer shall appoint a successor Trustee which shall be an independent financial institution or other reputable company which regularly acts as agent under debt issuances.

IFRS adoption adjustment in amount of EUR 2,817,822 in the reconciliation of profit or loss and comprehensive income for period ended 31 December 2020 present the change in the fair value of the Issuer's investments in subsidiaries and associate and reflects the impact on the value of the Issuer's investments of going from measuring investments at 'acquisition cost', which is required under Local GAAP, to measuring investments at 'fair value through profit or loss', which is required by IFRS.

Local GAAP figures in the tables above under sections "Reconciliation of financial position as at 31 December 2020" and "Reconciliation of profit or loss and comprehensive income as at 31 December 2020" differ from the corresponding figures in 2020 Financial Statements due to the consolidation effect of UAB "JTPG" as 2021 Financial Statements were prepared under IFRS, which allows the consolidation of UAB "JTPG", while such consolidation is not required under Local GAAP. On 23 December 2020, the Issuer acquired UAB "JTPG" and since the acquired company's sales revenues, net profit (loss) and total assets figures were minimal as at 31 December 2020, the management of the Issuer made the decision not to consolidate UAB "JTPG" for the purpose of preparing 2020 Financial Statements, but instead start the consolidation from 1 January 2021. The deviation between the figures listed in aforementioned tables and 2020 Financial Statements are immaterial.

Competitive Strengths

Attractive Baltic, Baltics and Polish renewables sector

Worldwide demand for renewable energy has grown rapidly over the last decade, driven by favourable government policies, increasing consumption targets at both the national and supranational levels, and rising electricity prices across EU. According to International Renewable Energy Agency from 2014 to 2021, installed solar photovoltaic and onshore wind capacity increased from 4,587 MW to 15,044 MW (approximately 229%) in the Baltics and Poland regions, while according to NordPool and Towarowa Gielda Energii S.A. data, from 2018 to 2021, average annual electricity prices increased from 39.5 EUR/MWh to 88.4 EUR/MWh in the Baltics and from 53.6 EUR/MWh to 88.9 EUR/MWh in Poland. In addition, the countries in which the Group operates have set national targets for renewable energy to constitute between 21 per cent and 51 per cent of total domestic energy consumption by 2030. Further, on 14 July 2021, the European Commission adopted a package of proposals for the EU's climate, energy, land use, transport and taxation policies to reduce net greenhouse gas emissions by at least 55 per cent by 2030. To add, countries, such as Poland, are financing renewable energy projects development through various incentives and subsidies, such as renewable energy systems auction schemes. After 5 years from the announcement of the first auctions, the auction system has become the most important instrument to support the photovoltaic market in Poland. In 2021, Poland experienced largest increase in RES auctions participation with roughly 2.2 GW of new solar capacity and about 0.3 GW of wind power capacity to be built in Poland as a result of the auctions held in May and June 2021.

As part of its investment strategy, the Issuer aims to increase its operating renewable energy assets production capacity to 1,000 MW. Increased investment in renewable energy will be needed to meet such targets, and the Issuer is well-positioned to capitalise on this trend. In addition to the increased demand and consumption targets, investment in the renewable energy industry is attractive due to geographical and economic advantages. Wind parks in the Baltics have among the highest wind speeds and most favourable wind conditions in the European Union, and as such there is significant potential for future development. The Baltics have some of the highest sovereign credit ratings and lowest debt-to-GDP ratios in the European Union.

Significant and sizeable near-term and long-term pipeline of renewable projects

The Issuer has a strong and geographically diversified pipeline of renewable energy projects, with an interim target of up to 1 GW of installed operating capacity. The Issuer's potential long-term pipeline development pipeline consists of projects of up to 782 MW. The completion of these projects is dependent on a number of contingencies, including circumstances outside of the control of the Issuer Group's.

Currently, the Issuer has projects spanning countries such as Lithuania and Poland, in various stages of development with potential project acquisitions in other Baltics countries, such as Latvia.

Solid and visible cash flow generation enabling secure cash flows going forward

In 2021, the Issuer's subsidies and associates received majority of the revenues via regulated or contracted means. "Energy Solar Projekty Sp. z o.o." benefits from a CPI indexed, 15-year CfD, tariff price of approximately 88.57 EUR/MWh, while UAB "Saulės energijos projektai" operates under a valid feed-in-tariff until 2025. UAB "Žaliosios investicijos" wind parks are expected to half of their generation capacity under PPA contract terms, while 61.9 MW out of 70.6 MW of installed capacity “PV Energy Projects Sp. z o.o.” projects have secured CPI indexed, 15-year CfD, tariff prices. In 2021, approximate 97% of electricity sales revenues were generated from fixed tariffs and off-take agreements. The Issuer’s disciplined approach to operating expenditure supports strong cash flow generation.

Experienced management team with a proven track record and local know-how

The Issuer’s core management team has significant experience in the industry and in the region. The team has a proven track record and a deep understanding of the challenges and opportunities in the market. The management team has strong experience in the renewable energy industry with approximate combined 35+ years of experience in energy, regulatory, consulting and finance sector. Moreover, it has a proven track record in successful execution of large energy development projects in the Baltic region, such as the ESP, the 65.5 MW capacity solar power project in Poland and UAB “Žaliosios investicijos”, the 185.5 MW capacity wind power parks project in Lithuania. The management team has developed clear strategic priorities in the wind and solar sectors for future value creation, as well as strong organisation culture and high leadership quality. The management team is supported by fully qualified in-house asset management and operating personnel that are highly experienced in supporting the management in operating, maintaining, and developing assets across the operating segments.

Sustainability contribution

The Issuer recognizes that its economic activities have an influence on society and the environment, As a result, the Issuer is dedicated to being responsible in business operations by incorporating environmental, social, and governance aspects into investment and operational choices.

The Issuer is committed to contribute to EU’s long-term strategy of achieving carbon neutrality by 2050 and takes full responsibility to make investments only in renewable energy assets and development projects to support transition towards decarbonized economy.

The Issuer’s sustainable strategy stems from two specific Sustainable Development Goals set by the United Nations (UN SDGs): Business activity directly advances SDG 7 (Affordable and Clean energy) via investing in renewable energy projects and commitment to contribute to SDG 13 (Climate Action) via building net-zero carbon emission balance sheet. As of 31 December 2021, currently operating assets are avoiding annual GHG emission of 52,212 tCO₂e, compensating an upward of 2.2 million of trees and 4,351 hectares of forest.

Strategic partnership in Lithuania

The Issuer has a strategic partnership with Taaleri Energia, a Finnish renewable energy assets developer and investor managing 2.8 GW of wind and solar portfolio in Europe, the US, and Middle East. Partnership allows the Issuer to leverage Taaleri Energia’s expertise during acquisition, development and operating of wind parks in the Baltic states. For example, in December 2021 the Issuer and Taaleri Energia acquired the three wind parks in Lithuania totalling 185.5 MW of wind power capacity.

Insurance and Risk Management

The subsidiaries and associates of the Issuer usually renews its insurance policies on an annual basis every year in order to cover various types of risks to which it may be exposed. Some of the risks related to the Issuer are covered under corporate insurances. In addition, the Issuer has entered into additional separate policies. The Issuer assumes that it has sufficient insurance coverage at reasonable premiums. The insurance coverage is regularly reviewed and is adapted when required. However, it cannot be ruled out that the Issuer will incur loss or damage that is not fully covered or not covered at all or that exceeds the coverage limits.

The management of different risks the Issuer encounters in its everyday activities is a significant and integral part of the Issuer’s business activities, see Risk Factors–Risks Relating to the Group’s Business.

The Issuer has a defined set of risk management policies and procedures in place, relating to each of the following:

- Risk management governance;
- Risk assessment;
- Risk handling;
- Risk management taking place through strategy, organisation, routines and responsible Operations.

The Management Company has the overall responsibility for ensuring that the Issuer has established appropriate and effective processes for risk management and internal control. The Issuer has established an internal whistle-blower procedures. An internal reporting facility allows employees to report malpractice, unlawful or unethical behaviour through the Issuer's intranet.

To manage part of the price risk, the Issuer currently uses fixed price contracts for a part of its production input and sales, typically with a duration from three to fifteen years. FiTs, CfDs, PPAs for electricity sales provide improved revenue certainty.

The Issuer may use financial hedges for managing the electricity market risk once the share of regulated/contracted revenue falls, although the Issuer is not currently making use of such derivative contracts. Hedging could be used both for operating assets' revenues, by entering into future contracts for power prices, and for development projects not falling under subsidy schemes, by entering into long-term PPAs. Suitable market instruments for hedging the electricity price, depending on the asset type and location, include regional power exchange price futures and electricity price area differential contracts where sufficient liquidity exists.

The Issuer is exposed to limited currency risk from existing and possible future projects in Poland, for which the revenue is denominated in Polish zloty. When operating in Poland, currency swaps or financing in the local currency might be considered to mitigate the currency risk.

The Group currently hedges against interest rate risk arising from its loan contracts in ESP project in Poland. 45% of total bank borrowings of ESP are hedged using interest rate swap contract. In the future, the Issuer may continue using interest rate swaps to cover part of the risk arising from possible interest rate increases for existing or future financing obligations.

Related Party Transactions

The relationships between the Issuer, including its group companies, and its related parties, identified according to the principles of International Accounting Standard 24 ("IAS 24"), primarily consist of business transactions relating to the sale and purchase of products, goods and services. They fall within the activities carried out by the Issuer and its group companies in the ordinary course of its business. Please see Note 22 of the 2021 Financial Statements for information on the Issuer's and its group companies' related party transactions conducted in such respective periods.

The Issuer's and its group companies' transactions with its related parties are regulated by Lithuanian Law on Companies, Articles of Association and transfer pricing documents, which provides for comprehensive regulation of rules concerning related party transactions and conflicts of interest between a company and its management (and persons close to such members).

REGULATION

The Issuer operates under a wide and complex set of regulations in the field of renewable energy sources. A brief, non-exhaustive summary overview of the regulatory framework to which the Issuer is subject to in Lithuania and Poland is set out below. The description is based on laws in effect as at the date of this Base Prospectus.

EU Framework for Renewable Energy Sources

On 11 December 1997 the Kyoto Protocol, operationalizing the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change and committing industrialized countries and economies in transition to limit and reduce greenhouse gases emissions in accordance with agreed individual targets, was adopted and entered into force on 16 February 2005.

EU made commitments under the Kyoto protocol to promote the electricity from renewable energy sources ("RES"), such as wind power, solar power, biomass and biogas. The primary EU legislation for the support of renewable energy is the Directive 2009/28/EC on the Promotion of the Use of Energy from Renewable Sources (and amending and subsequently repealing Directives 2001/77/EC and 2003/30/EC) (the "Renewable Energy Directive"), which entered into force in 2009. The Renewable Energy Directive targeted having 20% of the total energy consumption across the EU come from renewables by 2020 and set a mandatory national target for each Member State, stating the overall share of gross energy consumption that must come from RES.

On 30 November 2016 the European Commission released a package of legislative initiatives, known as the Clean Energy Package, including a recast of the Renewable Energy Directive. The Clean Energy Package was adopted by the European Parliament On 22 May 2019. The Clean Energy Package is focused on three key areas: (i) energy efficiency; (ii) creating a global leadership role for the EU in relation to the development and deployment of renewable technology; and (iii) creating a fair deal for the consumers. The Clean Energy Package sets the EU energy efficiency and renewable energy goals of at least 32% share of RES in final energy consumption by 2030. The new rules also reflect the EU's ambitions towards a climate-neutral economy by the end of 2050 while maintaining a framework for economic growth and competitiveness.

Regulations applicable in Lithuania

The Lithuanian renewable energy sector is mainly governed by the Law on Energy of the Republic of Lithuania, the Law on Electricity of the Republic of Lithuania and the Law on Energy from Renewable Sources of the Republic of Lithuania (the "Law on RES"). On 1 January 2022 the amendments of the said laws, implementing the Clean Energy Package, entered into force.

The Law on RES is the key law focusing on renewable energy sources and contains sectoral objectives: to increase the share of electricity produced from RES by up to at least 38% of national consumption by 2025, among this to increase the share of centrally supplied heat energy produced from RES by up to at least 70% of the heat energy balance, and to increase the share of RES used in households by up to at least 80% of the total energy consumption.

The Law on RES determines the State management, regulation, supervision, and control of activities in the renewable energy sector, as well as designating the energy network operators, renewable energy producers under state regulation, their supervision, and control of their relationship with the performing institutions.

Development Projects

Permit to develop power plant parks and grid connection

In order to start development of power plant parks, the developer must apply for a permit to develop electricity generation capacities (the "Development Permit").

The Development Permits are issued by the National Energy Regulatory Council of the Republic of Lithuania Council ("NERC"), provided that the applicant meets the respective prerequisites, e.g. availability to connect the planned power plant to the grid (i.e., signed letter of intent with the grid operator and security in the form of a bank guarantee in the amount of EUR 15/kW), existence of land use rights, compliance with land use and construction site selection requirements). The developer, depending on the capacity, may be requested to obtain an environmental impact assessment report and public health impact assessment. The grid connection conditions should also be received from the grid operator. The grid operators are allowed to refuse connection only when there are no economic or technical conditions for connection to the grid or supply of energy. The grid operators are obliged to interconnect RES installations with priority over other energy sources.

The procedure is simplified depending on the capacity of the power plant park. The Development Permit is not necessary if a person intends to construct or develop the facility with a capacity not exceeding 30 kW to produce electricity for private use (i.e. without electricity supply to the electricity grid).

The Development Permit is valid for 36 months with possible extensions in the following circumstances: (i) in case the planned construction works are late due to the actions of the State or a third party or force majeure events for the time period of such hindrance; and (ii) in case the construction permit has been issued (unless a construction permit is not required) and at least 50% of the project development works have been completed, for an extension of six months.

Planning rules and authorisations

The Chief of Defence of the Republic of Lithuania has established certain areas where construction of wind parks (turbines) is prohibited due to national security issues (i.e. due to impact on the air surveillance radars of the Lithuanian Armed Forces) and areas where construction of wind turbines is possible only subject to certain conditions such as height restrictions or payment of compensation to the Lithuanian Armed Forces at the rate of 18 EUR/kW of the planned capacity that is indicated in the Development Permit.

Construction of power plant parks must be allowed under the applicable territorial planning documents – general plan of municipal or local level, special plan or detailed plan. If development of a power plant park is based on a general plan, no other territorial planning documents are necessary. In such case it is necessary to prepare design proposals and carry out respective publication procedures in order to obtain the approval of the director of the municipal administration. If development of a power plant park is based on a special or detailed plan, preparation of design proposals and their publication is not necessary.

In certain cases, depending on the size, location and potential impact of the power plant project (e.g. the planned territory exceeds 10 km²) screening of strategic environmental assessment ("SEA") or environmental impact assessment ("EIA") of the territorial planning documents is required in order to adopt or amend territorial planning documents. As integral part of SEA or EIA, or as a separate study, a noise assessment is usually also required for wind parks.

Screening of EIA shall also be conducted before application for a construction permit, if applicable. After the screening of EIA the Environmental Protection Agency determines whether full EIA is required or not. If the Environmental Protection Agency decides that full EIA is necessary for a power plant park development, at the initial stage of the EIA procedure the municipality council may decide that the development of power plant is not possible. In this case full EIA cannot be conducted until such decision of the municipality is valid.

Developer of the power plant park shall also obtain use rights with regards to the land where the power plant and the related infrastructure (electricity cables, access roads, etc.) are planned to be located (e.g., ownership title, right to build (superficies) or long-term lease (as rights in rem), simple lease, easement, etc.). It is also necessary to prepare land plot formation and reformation projects to divide the existing land plots by forming smaller land plots intended for the construction of power plants, and to change the intended land use purpose of such land plots.

Additionally, sanitary protection zones ("SPZ") have to be established for wind parks either (i) by applying the size set forth in the applicable legal acts (for wind turbines of 2 MW and more – 440 m), in which case there is no need to perform a health impact assessment ("HIA") and SPZ can be established in land plot formation and reformation project, or wind turbine technical design document which shall be prepared for the building permit application, or EIA report, if full EIA is performed; or (ii) by applying individual size determined on the basis of noise and flickering calculations, in which case SPZ is established by performing HIA.

Irrespective of how SPZ is established, it is necessary to obtain consents to establish SPZ from the landowners who own land plots within the territory of SPZ. Such consents must be obtained prior to approval of the document establishing the SPZ. The established SPZ must be registered in the Real Estate Register. The failure to establish and register the necessary SPZ may result in refusal to approve building design documentation of wind parks and refusal to issue the required building permit.

Construction design documentation of power plant parks are subject to approval from a number of governmental authorities, such as the Civil Aviation Administration, the Chief of Defence of the Republic of Lithuania and the State Border Guard Service.

A construction permit for the construction of power plant park is also required. Such permits are issued by the director of municipal administration. When construction of power plant park and the related infrastructure is completed, the developer must obtain a construction completion act which is to be signed by respective governmental authorities.

Operation of power plant parks

As a rule, electricity producers, operating power plant parks, are required to hold a permit to generate electricity (the "Generation Permit"). Generation Permits are issued by the NERC for indefinite period of time.

The Generation Permit is issued in case: (i) the construction or re-construction works have been finished and comply with the applicable requirements; (ii) the generation installations have been tested and deemed suitable for operation; and (iii) the owner of power plant has undertaken in writing to demolish or deconstruct the generation installations, if the NERC revokes the Generation Permit.

In addition, wind parks are subject to the normative levels established for outdoor noise under the respective hygiene norms. The owner of wind park shall ensure that the noise from its wind parks located in the vicinity of residential and public purpose buildings does not exceed the allowed normative levels and, if needed, apply appropriate noise abatement measures. Monitoring of the impact of wind park operations may also be required (e.g., by examining the potential deaths of birds or bat).

Renewable Energy Support Schemes

In 2011 the Law on RES introduced fundamentally changed framework for the promotion of energy generation from renewable energy sources. The support scheme was based on fixed price guarantee (i.e. FiT) for certain quotas of specific RES (e.g. wind, solar, etc.) based on electricity generation capacities to be installed, which was allocated under auction procedure. The FiT, declared by the winning bidder, together with other support measures (such as electricity priority dispatch, discount for grid connection costs, release from balancing responsibility, electricity off-take) was guaranteed for the period of 12 years.

On 1 May 2019 the amendments to the Law on RES entered into force and introduced a new revised support scheme which mainly consisted of: (i) a sliding premium payable on top of the electricity market price (i.e. FiP); (ii) electricity priority dispatch; and (iii) release from balancing responsibility in case of generation installations with the capacity of up to 500 kW or certain pilot power plant parks.

On 1 January 2022 the new amendments to the Law on RES entered into force and modified the conditions for release from balancing responsibility. Producers may benefit from the said support scheme, if: (i) installed capacities are up to 400 kW; (ii) installed capacities are up to 200 kW, provided that the Generation Permit is received after 1 January 2026.

Price Premium Support Scheme

The sliding FiP support scheme has defined new concepts, such as: (i) maximum price – the maximum electricity price set for producers by the NERC that will be taken into consideration when paying funds for electricity produced and supplied into the grid; (ii) reference price – the price of electricity from RES set by the NERC that shall be used to determine the maximum premium and shall be set for a particular auction; (iii) premium to market price for electricity from RES – the producer's additional income for a unit of electricity from RES produced and supplied into the grid.

The premium cannot exceed the difference between the maximum price and the reference price. As it is a sliding premium scheme, the premium's payment depends on market conditions. The full amount of the premium is paid only if the sum of the hourly spot price and the winning premium is lower or equal to the maximum price set by the NERC. A partial amount of the premium is paid at hours when the sum of the spot price and the winning premium is higher than the maximum price set by the NERC. No premium is paid if the spot price is higher than the maximum price. Also, no support is given for electricity produced in the period of six or more consecutive hours when electricity prices are negative. No premium is paid for electricity generated in excess of the annual support quota amount that was assigned to the producer as a result of the auction.

The new support model aimed to integrate electricity producers that use RES into the market and, thus, such producers are obliged to sell electricity on the market.

Technology Neutral Auctions

The premium shall be set and the support quota shall be allocated under the technologically neutral auction procedure. The key criteria to determine auction winners is the smallest premium offered to the electricity market price in the Nord Pool exchange that will be paid for the period of 12 years from the day when the Generation Permit is received for a certain annual production amount that is allocated in the auction. The premium is not paid for electricity generated above the annual support amount that was assigned in the auction.

The producers to whom the support scheme applies shall have to ensure that electricity in the amount equal to the support quota amount is supplied to the grid on a three-year average basis during the 12-year support period. Failing to deliver the full amount will result in a financial penalty, subject to an allowed 20% deviation from support quota amount.

The foreign EU producers wishing participate in an auction and construct power plant in their home states may participate in the auction provided that: (i) there is a direct electricity interconnection between Lithuania and home state of the foreign producer and (ii) there is an agreement concluded between Lithuania and home state of the foreign producer.

Auctions are organised following an auctions schedule approved by the Government.

The first auction under the new support scheme was announced by the NERC on 2 September 2019 and ended in January 2020 where support for annual electricity production in the amount of 0.3 TWh was allocated. The Government planned three auctions in each of 2020, 2021 and 2022 with 0.7 TWh of annual production quota to be allocated in each auction, depending on the actual progress of reaching the renewable energy target. In March 2021, the NERC announced that the target quota of 5 TWh for annual renewable energy production has been reached (taking into account capacities installed and/or under development), therefore no further auctions shall be organised under the currently applicable support scheme.

Producing Customers

Other measures promoting renewable resources are being actively implemented as well. On 1 October 2019 major amendments to the Law on REC concerning producing customers entered into force. These amendments significantly expanded producing customers' operational capabilities by increasing the potential capacity of renewable installations, expanding the total power of the power plants of producing customers and, among others, introducing the concept of remote customer. The remote customer (natural or legal person) may have a power plant and produce electricity in one place and use it in another. The power plants of producing customers may be constructed, installed and operated by other persons authorised to develop electricity generating capacity and to produce electricity.

Guarantees of origin

For the purposes of demonstrating to final customers the share or quantity of energy from renewable sources in an energy supplier's energy mix and in the energy supplied to consumers under contracts marketed with reference to the consumption of energy from RES, the guarantees of origin can be issued. Upon producer request guarantees of origin shall be issued for each unit (1 MWh) produced and supplied to the grid electricity from RES.

Trading

Trade of electricity from RES, produced in power plant parks, in the domestic market is conducted using two methods: (i) trading under bilateral agreements, including power purchase agreements ("PPA") with grid operator or the customer (PPA allows the possibility for the customer to purchase electricity directly from the producer of renewable electricity without a permit to independent electricity supply); and (ii) trading on the electricity exchange.

Since 18 June 2012, wholesale trading on the Lithuanian Electricity Exchange has been administered by Nord Pool Spot AS, an operator of the Nordic and Baltic electricity exchanges. It should be noted that on 31 May 2018 the NERC approved the offer received from the Baltic States transmission operators for operation of more than one electricity exchange operator in the Baltic States. Therefore, it opened the way for Epex Spot (which previously expressed its interest) and other power exchanges to enter the Lithuanian market.

Regulations applicable in Poland

Renewable Energy Support Scheme

The Act on Renewable Energy Sources of 20 February 2015 (the "Act on RES") constitutes a central legislative act from the perspective of development of renewable energy sources market in Poland. Together with the Act of 10 April 1997 – Energy Law (the "Polish Energy Law") and numerous pieces of secondary legislation, it creates a legal framework for the implementation and operation of renewable energy projects.

In order to stimulate the growth of the RES market, the Act on RES introduced fundamental modifications to the existing RES support system and created a new auction-based CfD-like scheme (the "Auction Scheme"). The Auction Scheme is the basic and target support system for RES installations with a capacity equal to or exceeding 500 kW. It provides support for those projects that are successful at auction. The support takes the form of a premium on top of the market price of electricity (a quasi-contract for difference model), payable to a project owner, provided that, in the coming years, the market price of electricity is below the successful bidding price submitted in the auction (and subject to certain limitations and conditions regulating the Auction Scheme).

Under the auction-based scheme, the support is provided only for RES projects that are successful in competitive auctions, which are organised by the President of the Energy Regulatory Office (the "ERO") at least once a year, in an electronic form, via an Internet auction platform.

RES auctions are conducted separately for:

- (i) Installations falling within one of five "technological baskets";
- (ii) large (>1 MW of installed capacity) and small (\leq 1 MW of installed capacity) RES installations; and
- (iii) new, migrating, and modernised RES installations.

During a RES auction, a RES producer submits a bid, offering to sell electricity from the relevant RES installation at a certain price (the "Auction Price"). The support is granted to the lowest bidders (until the quantity or the value of the electricity set for the given auction is exhausted) and to the bidders whose bid(s) (jointly) do(es) not exceed the 80% per cent cap (i.e., 80 per cent of the volume of the energy covered by all the bids submitted for the auction).

In its bid, each producer must state, among other things, the specific RES installation, the Auction Price, and the quantity of electricity it plans to sell under the Auction Scheme in subsequent calendar years for the period of support. The Auction Price may not exceed the technology specific reference price, i.e., the maximum price in PLN per MWh, determined annually by the Minister of Climate and Environment.

Producers of electricity from RES installations with an installed capacity of 500 kW or more that are successful at auction are free to sell the electricity on the market and, additionally, as a result of the successful auction, are entitled to cover a so-called "negative balance" in settlements with the State-owned entity responsible for carrying out settlements of negative balances, i.e., the RES Settlements Operator.

A "negative balance" is calculated as the difference between: (i) the net value of the sales of electricity generated in the RES installation and sold in the relevant month, less VAT, calculated as specified in the Act on RES; and (ii) the value of that electricity determined on the basis of the indexed adjusted price, i.e., the Auction Price minus the value of the investment aid received (if any). It might also be the case that the difference between those values is positive. In such cases (where the balance is positive in the relevant month), it should be offset against any future negative balance. Such settlements of the positive balance must be carried out by the end of the support period. If the positive balance is not settled by the end of the support period, it must be returned to the RES Settlements Operator in six equal instalments, starting from the end of the support period.

The Act on RES does not provide for any minimum statutory period of support under the auction-based scheme. However, it provides for a maximum period of support, amounting to a period of 15 years, provided that period does not extend beyond 30 June 2039.

Development Projects

(a) General remarks

Under Polish law, the development, construction, and operation of a solar park requires several administrative decisions issued at different stages of the project life cycle. In principle, a typical project should obtain at least the following permits: (i) an environmental decision; (ii) a zoning permit (or zoning plan); (iii) a building permit; and (iv) an occupancy permit (or notification about the completion of the construction works). Depending on specific conditions, other project permits such as water, archeological or road permits might also be required. Additional, stringent regulations are applicable to the development of onshore wind projects.

(b) Environmental decisions

The environmental decision contains an analysis of the impact of the planned RES installation on the environment and sets out the conditions that the investor should meet in order to protect it. A decision is required for any planned: (i) investments that will have a significant impact on the environment; or (ii) investments that may potentially have a significant impact on the environment. In those cases, the authority conducting the proceedings is obliged to assess the impact of the project on the environment. It should be notified, that PV farms of development area less, than 1 ha, are generally exempted from having to obtain the environmental decision. Detailed rules on the issuance of environmental decisions are included in the Act on Providing Information on the Environment and its Protection, Public Participation in Environmental Protection and Environmental Impact Assessments, and in the secondary legislation. A list of types of projects that may significantly affect the environment is set out in the secondary legislation adopted by the Council of Ministers.

While proceeding the environmental impact assessment, the body conducting the administrative proceedings may decide that the environmental impact report is required. In such cases, the applicant is obliged to file a report the scope of which is determined by the authority.

(c) Zoning requirements

Under Polish law, the permitted use of land allocated for any planned project is provided for in a local zoning plan (which is adopted for a given territory in the form of a resolution of local authorities). This is especially important for wind farms, that are not allowed to be located outside of areas covered by local zoning plan. In case of PV plants, the absence of such local zoning plan in force for the area where the planned project is to be located requires the development of the project to obtain a location permit issued in the form of an administrative decision. There are two types of location permits: (i) a "regular" planning permit (decyzja o warunkach zabudowy), and (ii) a public purpose investment decision (decyzja o lokalizacji inwestycji celu publicznego), which can only be issued in the case of developments which qualify as investments for a "public purpose" (a legally defined term in Polish law which does not explicitly refer to renewable energy sources, though these decisions in some cases are issued for PV plants). Detailed zoning regulations are included in the Act of 27 March 2003 on Planning and Spatial Development, as well as in relevant secondary legislation.

(d) Building permits

Under Polish construction law, the construction and commissioning of a RES installation require, as a rule, a building permit. In principle, the building permit is issued for the whole construction undertaking, i.e., in the case of a PV installation it covers all the PV panels as well as ancillary infrastructure (such as a transformer station, cable lines required to connect the PV plant or access roads). Upon completion of the construction, the occupancy permit (or, in some cases, certificate of no objection) from proper authority is to be obtained, that allows for usage of the installation.

(e) Connection to the grid

Under Polish Energy Law, all energy grid operators, subject to certain limitations, are obliged to connect to the grid, under equal treatment rules, any entity applying for connection that meets the statutory requirements. The energy grid operators are allowed to refuse connection only when there are no economic or technical conditions for connection to the grid or supply of energy. The grid operators are obliged by law to interconnect RES installations with priority over other energy sources.

Connection to the grid takes place on the basis of a grid connection agreement executed between the grid operator and the entity to be connected, subject to the fulfilment of certain requirements and conditions set out in the grid connection conditions.

Operational assets

(a) Energy licence

As a general rule, a RES producer that intends to produce and trade in electricity (to commence selling) from RES must apply to the President of the ERO for a production license. Obtaining a production license is the last stage of the development phase of a production project (in practice, it is possible to obtain a license to carry out business activity in the form of production of electricity only after an occupancy permit or similar authorisation for the project has been issued and has become final). Alternatively, in case of RES installations with capacity less than 1 MW, instead of the production license, the entry into the register of energy producers in a small installation kept by the President of the ERO is required

(b) Environmental matters

The environmental decision issued for a RES project may, depending on specific conditions, impose certain additional requirements to be met when operating the installation. Such requirements usually aim at limiting the impact of the operation of the project on the environment. They may also specifically relate to the decommissioning of the plant. Issues related to any potential emissions or waste generation and disposal are regulated in particular in the Act on Waste and the Environmental Protection Law. In some specific cases, construction and/or operation of a RES project may also require a water permit.

TAXATION

The following is a general description of certain tax considerations relating to the Notes. It does not purport to be a complete analysis of all tax considerations relating to the Notes, whether in those countries or elsewhere. Prospective purchasers of Notes should consult their own tax advisers as to which countries' tax laws could be relevant to acquiring, holding and disposing of Notes and receiving payments of interest, principal and/or other amounts under the Notes and the consequences of such actions under the tax laws of those countries. This summary is based upon the law as in effect on the date of this Base Prospectus and is subject to any change in law that may take effect after such date.

The Republic of Lithuania Taxation

The information contained within this section is limited to Lithuanian withholding and income tax issues and prospective purchasers of Notes are advised to consult their own tax advisers concerning the overall Lithuanian tax consequences of the ownership of Notes.

A “resident individual” means an individual whose permanent place of residence is in the Republic of Lithuania, or whose personal, social or economic interests are located in the Republic of Lithuania or who is present in the Republic of Lithuania for more than 183 days in the relevant tax period or more than 280 days in two consecutive tax periods and at least 90 days in one of these tax periods, and a “resident entity” means an entity which is legally established in the Republic of Lithuania, and a “non-resident individual” means an individual whose permanent place of residence is outside the Republic of Lithuania, whose personal, social or economic interests are located outside the Republic of Lithuania and who is present in the Republic of Lithuania for less than 183 days in the relevant tax period and less than 280 days in two consecutive tax periods or who is present in the Republic of Lithuania for more than 280 days in two consecutive tax periods, but less than 90 days in one of these tax periods, and a “non-resident entity” means an entity which is legally established outside the Republic of Lithuania. Taxation of interest income and capital gains received by non-resident entities acting through a permanent establishment in the Republic of Lithuania is the same as that of resident entities defined above, therefore, it is not separately outlined in the further sections of this Base Prospectus. For relevant details on the taxation of Lithuanian permanent establishments as Noteholders, please refer to the taxation of resident entities. Taxation of non-resident individuals acting through a fixed base in the Republic of Lithuania is the same as that of resident individuals defined above, if such a non-resident individual earns interest income performing activity through a fixed base in the Republic of Lithuania.

Withholding Tax, Income Tax

Taxation of interest

Payments to individuals

Payments in respect of interest on the Notes (including, to the extent applicable, the difference between the redemption price and the issue price of the Notes) to a resident or non-resident individual will be subject to personal income tax at progressive tax rates of (i) 15 per cent., if the total amount of income (excluding income from employment, self-employment, dividends, remuneration of board members and certain other types of income) received by an individual during a calendar year does not exceed the sum of 120 Lithuanian gross average salaries, which shall be determined on the basis of the state gross average monthly salary as set forth in the Law on the Approval of the State Social Insurance Fund Budget Indicators (in 2022, this figure is EUR 1,504.10 and the threshold equals to EUR 180,480) and (ii) 20 per cent., which shall be applied to any income (excluding income from employment, self-employment, dividends, remuneration of board members and certain other types of income) received by an individual during the calendar year, exceeding the aforementioned threshold. For non-resident individuals, the Lithuanian-sourced income that is taxable in the Republic of Lithuania includes interest, royalties, income from sports and entertainment activities, capital gains and income from the rent from real estate located in the Republic of Lithuania and capital gains from movable property registerable in the Republic of Lithuania.

The total amount of interest (including interest on the Notes) received during the calendar year not exceeding EUR 500 will not be subject to the personal income tax. The personal income tax is to be paid by the resident individual himself/herself.

When interest is earned by a non-resident individual, the Issuer, as a Lithuanian interest-paying entity, will withhold 15 per cent. personal income tax and if it turns out at the end of the year that a part of the amount was subject to 20 per cent. rate, the non-resident individual is to pay the difference himself/herself.

Separate double taxation treaties with the Republic of Lithuania can provide for a lower tax rate for non-residents.

Payments to entities

Payments in respect of interest on the Notes (including, to the extent applicable, the difference between the redemption price and the issue price of the Notes):

- (i) to a resident entity will be included into calculation of its taxable profit. Taxable profit will be subject to 15 per cent. corporate income tax (5 per cent. for small-sized entities). Banks and credit unions, including branches of foreign banks in the Republic of Lithuania shall pay additional 5 per cent. corporate income tax on profits (subject to special calculation rules) exceeding EUR 2 million.
- (ii) to a non-resident entity, which is registered or otherwise organised in a state of the European Economic Area or in a state with which the Republic of Lithuania has concluded and brought into effect a double tax treaty, will not be subject to withholding tax in the Republic of Lithuania.
- (iii) to a non-resident entity other than those listed above will be subject to 10 per cent. withholding tax.

If an interest-paying person is unable to identify the Noteholder and determine such Noteholder's eligibility for a lower tax rate or exemption from withholding tax, payments of interest in respect of the Notes (including, to the extent applicable, the difference between the redemption price and the issue price of the Notes) to any such Noteholder will be subject to 15 per cent. personal income tax to be withheld by the Issuer.

Taxation on Disposition of Notes

Payments to individuals

Capital gains (i.e. the difference between the sale price and acquisition costs) on disposal of the Notes received by a resident individual will be subject to progressive tax rates of (i) 15 per cent., if the total amount of income (excluding income from employment, self-employment, dividends, remuneration of board members and certain other types of income) received by a resident individual during the calendar year does not exceed the sum of 120 Lithuanian gross average salaries (in 2022, this figure is 1,504.10 and the threshold amounts to EUR 180,480) and (ii) 20 per cent., which shall be applied to any income (excluding income from employment, self-employment, dividends, remuneration of board members and certain other types of income) received by a resident individual during the calendar year, exceeding the aforementioned threshold. Any capital gains received from the sale of securities (including the Notes) during the calendar year not exceeding EUR 500 will not be subject to personal income tax. The tax exemption will not apply if the sale proceeds are received from entities established in a tax haven or from individuals whose permanent place of residence is in a tax haven.

The disposition of Notes by non-resident individuals will not be subject to any Lithuanian income or capital gains tax.

Payments to entities

Capital gains (i.e. the difference between the sale price and acquisition costs) on disposal of the Notes received by a resident entity will be included into calculation of its taxable profit. Taxable profit will be subject to 15 per cent. corporate income tax (5 per cent. for small-sized entities). Banks and credit unions, including branches of foreign banks in the Republic of Lithuania shall pay additional 5 per cent. corporate income tax on profits (subject to special calculation rules) exceeding EUR 2 million.

The disposition of Notes by non-resident entities will not be subject to any Lithuanian income or capital gains tax.

Registration and Stamp Duty

Transfers of Notes will not be subject to any registration or stamp duty in the Republic of Lithuania.

The Proposed Financial Transactions Tax ("FTT")

On 14 February 2013, the European Commission published a proposal (the "Commission's proposal") for a Directive for a common FTT in Belgium, Germany, Estonia, Greece, Spain, France, Italy, Austria, Portugal, Slovenia and Slovakia (the "participating Member States"). However, Estonia has since stated that it will not participate.

The Commission's proposal has very broad scope and could, if introduced, apply to certain dealings in Notes (including secondary market transactions) in certain circumstances. The issuance and subscription of Notes should, however, be exempt.

Under the Commission's proposal, FTT could apply in certain circumstances to persons both within and outside of the participating Member States. Generally, it would apply to certain dealings in Notes where at least one party is a financial institution, and at least one party is established in a participating Member State. A financial institution may be, or be deemed to be, "established" in a participating Member State in a broad range of circumstances, including (a) by transacting with a person established in a participating Member State or (b) where the financial instrument which is subject to the dealings is issued in a participating Member State.

However, the FTT proposal remains subject to negotiation between participating Member States. It may therefore be altered prior to any implementation, the timing of which, remains unclear. Additional E.U. Member States may decide to participate. Several Member States, such as France, Italy and Spain, have in the recent years implemented unilateral FTTs.

Prospective holders of Notes are advised to seek their own professional advice in relation to the FTT.

FATCA

Pursuant to certain provisions of the U.S. Internal Revenue Code of 1986, commonly known as FATCA, a "foreign financial institution" may be required to withhold on certain payments it makes ("foreign passthru payments") to persons that fail to meet certain certification, reporting, or related requirements. The Issuer is a foreign financial institution for these purposes. A number of jurisdictions (including the Republic of Lithuania) have entered into, or have agreed in substance to, intergovernmental agreements with the United States to implement FATCA ("IGAs"), which modify the way in which FATCA applies in their jurisdictions. Under the provisions of IGAs as currently in effect, a foreign financial institution in an IGA jurisdiction would generally not be required to withhold under FATCA or an IGA from payments that it makes. Certain aspects of the application of the FATCA provisions and IGAs to instruments such as the Notes, including whether withholding would ever be required pursuant to FATCA or an IGA with respect to payments on instruments such as the Notes, are uncertain and may be subject to change. Even if withholding would be required pursuant to FATCA or an IGA with respect to payments on instruments such as the Notes, such withholding would not apply prior to the date that is two years after the publication of the final regulations defining "foreign passthru payments" and Notes that are treated as debt for U.S. federal income purposes and that are issued on or prior to the date that is six months after the date on which final regulations defining "foreign passthru payments" are filed with the U.S. Federal Register generally would be "grandfathered" for purposes of FATCA withholding unless materially modified after such date. However, if additional notes that are not distinguishable from previously issued Notes are issued after the expiration of the grandfathering period and are subject to withholding under FATCA, then withholding agents may treat all Notes, including the Notes offered prior to the expiration of the grandfathering period, as subject to withholding under FATCA. Holders should consult their own tax advisors regarding how these rules may apply to their investment in the Notes. In the event any withholding would be required pursuant to FATCA or an IGA with respect to payments on the Notes, no person will be required to pay additional amounts as a result of the withholding.

- (i) the Articles of Association of the Issuer;
- (ii) this Base Prospectus.

For the avoidance of doubt, unless specifically incorporated by reference to this Base Prospectus, information on the website of the Issuer does not form part of this Base Prospectus.

6. Material Contracts

No contracts (not being contracts entered into in the ordinary course of business) have been entered into by the Issuer that are, or may be, material or contain provisions under which the Issuer or any of its Subsidiaries has an obligation or entitlement which is, or may be, material to the ability of the Issuer to meet its obligations in respect of the Notes.

7. Clearing of the Notes

The Notes have been accepted for clearance through Nasdaq CSD. The appropriate common code and the International Securities Identification Number (ISIN) in relation to the Notes of each Tranche will be specified in the relevant Final Terms. The relevant Final Terms shall specify any other clearing system as shall have accepted the relevant Notes for clearance together with any further appropriate information.

8. Issue Price and Yield

Notes may be issued at any price. The issue price of each Tranche of Notes to be issued under the Programme will be determined by the Issuer in consultation with the relevant Dealer(s) at the time of issue in accordance with prevailing market conditions and the issue price of the relevant Notes or the method of determining the price and the process for its disclosure will be set out in the applicable Final Terms. In the case of different Tranches of Notes, the issue price may include accrued interest in respect of the period from the interest commencement date of the relevant Tranche (which may be the issue date of the first Tranche or, if interest payment dates have already passed, the most recent interest payment date in respect of the Series) to the issue date of the relevant Tranche.

The yield of each Tranche of Notes set out in the applicable Final Terms will be calculated as of the relevant issue date on an annual or semi-annual basis using the relevant issue price. It is not an indication of future yield.

9. Dealer transacting with the Issuer

Dealer and/or its affiliates have engaged, and may in the future engage, in investment banking and/or commercial banking transactions with, and may perform other services for, the Issuer and its affiliates in the ordinary course of business. In addition, in the ordinary course of their business activities, the Dealer and its affiliates may make or hold a broad array of investments and actively trade debt and equity securities (or related derivative securities) and financial instruments (including bank loans) for their own account and for the accounts of their customers. Such investments and securities activities may involve securities and/or instruments of the Issuer or Issuer's affiliates. Dealer or its affiliates may have a lending relationship with the Issuer and may, in such cases, routinely hedge their credit exposure to the Issuer consistent with their customary risk management policies. Typically, such Dealer and their affiliates would hedge such exposure by entering into transactions which consist of either the purchase of credit default swaps or the creation of short positions in securities, including potentially the Notes issued under the Programme. Any such short positions could adversely affect future trading prices of Notes under the Programme. The Dealer and their affiliates may also make investment recommendations and/or publish or express independent research views in respect of such securities or financial instruments and may hold, or recommend to clients that they acquire, long and/or short positions in such securities and instruments.

10. The Legal Entity Identifier
